Extended Surtax Officially Dies, But To Be Revived

WASHINGTON (AP) — House leaders, blocked in an initial effort to rush through a Senate-passed bill extending the 10 per cent surtax through Dec. 31, are hoping to get the measure to the White House early next week.

All 100 members showed up Thursday as the Senate approved the six-month extension, overriding the plea of President Nixon that a full year continuance is necessary to dampen inflation.

An attempt to complete action on the bill in the House Thursday night before the surtax withholding rates expired was stymied when objections were raised, forcing Democratic leaders to put off voting until Monday.

Even though the surtax officially died June 30 and the withholding rates expired at midnight, Treasury officials were expected to urge all employers to keep taking the levy out of employee's paychecks since both houses of Congress have passed surtax extension bills.

The House voted a month ago for the full year's extension but in a different bill than the one passed by the Senate.

No Candidates For Several Elective Posts

The Pickaway County Board of Elections reports that petitions have not been applied for to fill several elective offices throughout the county.

Wednesday at 4 p.m. is the deadline for candidates to file petitions to run for office in the November general election.

Many candidates have taken out petitions but have not yet filed with the Board of Elections.

Four Councilmen are to be elected in the villages of Tarlton, Ashville, Orient, New Holland, Darbyville, Williamsport, Commercial Point and South Bloomfield.

In order to fill each office, it will be necessary for four candidates to take out petitions in the villages of Commercial Point, Tarlton and South Bloomfield; two candidates are still needed in the villages of Darbyville and Williamsport.

One candidate is to be elected to the Board of Public Affairs and is to serve a four year term in the villages of New Holland, Tarlton, Ashville and Williamsport. No candidate has filed for this office.

In Scioto Township, two Trustees are to be elected; however, only one petition has been filed to date.

Kennedy Case Inquest Sought By Prosecutor

NEW BEDFORD, Mass. (AP) — Dist. Atty. Edmund Dinis has applied for an inquest into the drowning of a girl secretary in a car accident involving Sen. Edward M. Kennedy—and has drawn a rebuke from the judge who will rule on the request.

Dinis said Thursday he had sent the application to Chief Justice G. Joseph Tauro of the state Superior Court.

Declaring that the first he heard about it was from the press, Justice Tauro described the timing of the announcement as "bad judgment at the very least" and said: "I can't comment on it until I receive it. I'll have plenty of comment at the right time."

Dinis is district attorney for the Southern District, which includes the Martha's Vineyard area where the drowning occurred July 18. Until now, he had stayed clear of the investigation, which led to a charge against Kennedy of leaving the scene of the accident, fatal to Miss Mary Jo Koepchne, 28.

the issue to the House in a form which offers six months or nothing.

The reason is that the Senate added the surtax amendment as a rider on a House-passed unemployment compensation tax bill.

Senate leaders were hopeful the House simply would adopt this amendment and thus clear the bill to Nixon.

Senate voting on the extension bill came after four hours of sharp debate.

And it climaxed four weeks of intensive maneuvering and cloakroom conferences since the Democratic Policy Committee first decided it would go only for a short-term surtax extension in an effort to maintain pressure for broad tax reform.

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen claims he got one concession from the Democrats in all this scheming—a six months continuance instead of the five originally offered by the Democrats.

But the outcome in the Senate was essentially a victory for Majority Leader Mike Mansfield and his policy group which won every round.

Dirksen said it was an accomplishment to get any surtax bill passed and that he was certain the bill would be signed by Nixon.

Mars Desolate, Mariner Photos Show Scientists

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The odds against finding life on Mars lengthened today as scientists studied Mariner 6's closest-ever pictures of the red planet, showing a meteorite-battered surface much like the moon's.

Black-and-white photographs televised across 58 million miles Thursday night disclosed such utter desolation that only the most optimistic could hope for the presence of unseen living organisms.

There were huge and ancient craters, many with sharp-edged smaller craters inside; mountainous highlands, precipitous slopes, crack lines and scattered rubble—but no hint that the mysterious planet harbors life or ever did.

Scientists who plan to send surface-scratching unmanned landing craft to Mars in the 1970s were cautious in their comments on the possibility of life.

Said Dr. Robert Leighton, physicist-astronomer heading a study of the pictures:

"The camera system was never expected to provide an answer to the question of life on Mars. It is expected if there is life on Mars it would be in microscopic form or a low order of vegetation."

The photographs, many snapped with a telephoto lens as the 850-pound spacecraft swept within 2,130 miles of the Martian equator, covered a dark equatorial band some scientists have thought might bear vegetation because it seems to darken in the spring.

What the spacecraft's two cameras saw, however, were scenes like American deserts where dark mountain ranges rise from wastelands of bleached sand.

There were no clouds and no signs of a haze which some observer have theorized might be evidence of moisture in low places. Leighton commented:

"The blue haze that some say is on Mars may not exist. The surface features are very clear."

Scientists will get a second chance at taking close-ups of Mars when Mariner 7, five days behind Mariner 6, makes a similar fly-by Monday night.

Silent for several hours Wednesday after apparently being knocked askew by a small meteorite, Mariner 7 at last report was operating normally and scheduled to begin taking approach pictures tonight.

House Approves Moves To Slow Desegregation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three provisions that could slow federal efforts to desegregate southern schools have been approved by the House.

The provisions, which still must be acted on by the Senate, would prohibit the government from forcing school districts to bus students or close schools, and would give statutory approval to freedom of choice desegregation plans.

Such plans, which permit a white student to refuse to attend a school with Negroes, have been held unconstitutional by the courts unless they lead to true desegregation.

The provisions were added to a $17.7 billion appropriations bill Thursday night by southern Democrats and a large group of Republicans, including all but one of the GOP leaders, Rep. John Anderson of Illinois.

Irate Police Attack India State Assembly

Ransack Chamber In Anger Over Red Policies

CALCUTTA (AP) — A threat of new mob violence hung over India's largest city today after 5,000 police, incensed by West Bengal's Communist-led government, ransacked the State Assembly chamber.

The police attack, which one assemblyman said was unparalleled in the history of the world, occurred while President Nixon was visiting New Delhi, 800 miles to the northwest.

It was rather as if the police in New York had gone on a rampage against Gov. Nelson Rockefeller while Queen Elizabeth II was paying a state visit to Washington, but there was no indication that Nixon and his party were even aware of the events in Calcutta.

Jyoti Basu, Communist deputy chief minister of West Bengal, threatened to call the teeming city's militant students and restless unemployed youths into battle.

"Thousands of youths will come forward to deal with such unruly policemen if necessary," he told 50,000 persons at a rally called to protest President Nixon's visit to New Delhi.

Basu declared that a "deep conspiracy" was behind the invasion of the assembly Thursday.

Student Buys Many Parts Of Missile

BOSTON (AP) — A college student says he has bought from private firms two-thirds of the parts to build an intercontinental ballistic missile and has access to the rest.

Joseph R. MacG. Seitz, 21, a special student at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, said in a copyright story in the Boston Globe today that he purchased the parts from various salvage and surplus metal dealers in Massachusetts.

The Globe said Dr. Jerome B. Wiesner, provost of MIT and a former science adviser to Presidents John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson, called its attention to Seitz's work.

Seitz said he found a metal salvage dealer in Boston who "will sell you an Atlas nose cone for 40 cents a pound . . . He doesn't know what they are unless you bother to tell him."

A warehouse in Taunton furnished a complete first-stage assembly of the Titan II-C, three guidance platforms, six re-entry shields and four "umbilical assemblies," Seitz said.

An "umbilical assembly" is one which disconnects the missile at the moment of launching.

Seitz, of Elberon, N.J., said he collected the components out of "idle curiosity" and to show security and ordinance people that "all you have to do is go out to the surplus yards and look."

Seitz said that actually assembling an ICBM is "a 500-man-year job," but no classified knowledge is needed.

Annual 4-H Steer Sale Grosses $37,736 At Fair

GRAND CHAMPION — Big Bear Stores purchased the grand champion steer of the 1969 Pickaway County 4-H show Thursday. The animal will be processed by Ohio Packing Co. From the left are John Davis, buyer for Ohio Packing; Wayne Gaines, meat manager at the local Big Bear Store; Wayne Sharron, meat supervisor for Big Bear and Fred Brown, owner of the steer.

Pickaway County 4-H steer exhibitors are $37,736.24 richer today.

The grand champion steer, an Angus owned by Fred Brown, a member of the Future Farmers of Monroe, was purchased by Big Bear Stores at $1.25 a pound Thursday at the annual steer auction at the fair.

Weighing 984 pounds, it brought a return of $1,230 for its owner. The 108 steers in the sale brought an average price of $38.51 a hundred at the sale, conducted by Bowling Stock Yards.

The swine and lamb auction will be conducted beginning 8 p.m. today in the show arena at the fairgrounds.

THE reserve grand champion brought $47 a hundred and was purchased by Armour Fertilizer, Mt. Sterling. It was a Hereford fed and shown by Mike Thomas.

The champion Shorthorn steer, shown by Steve Johnson, was purchased by L. M. Butch for $37 a hundred. It weighed 863 pounds. The champion Charolais steer, a 1,028 pound animal fed and shown by Bruce Liston, was purchased by George Van Camp Co. for $39 a hundred. The champion crossbred steer, a 1,028 pound animal belonging to Marsha Green, was purchased by Grove City Farmers' Exchange for $38 a hundred.

Woman Hangs Self; Attack Fells Man

CINCINNATI (AP) — A 56-year-old woman hanged herself at her home in suburban North College Hill Thursday, police said, and her husband collapsed and died later, apparently from a heart attack.

Police said that Eva Krettan hanged herself from rafters in the basement. They said that her husband, Nicholas, 58, found her and called a neighbor who alerted them. When the neighbor went to the Krettan residence, on the floor he found Krettan, who died at a hospital.

President Eyes Resumption Of Friendship

LAHORE, Pakistan (AP) — President Nixon arrived in Pakistan today and began talks with President A. M. Yahya Khan which Nixon hoped would bolster relations with the onetime close ally of the United States.

Bringing the Asian portion of their round-the-world tour to a close, Nixon and his wife arrived from India in 100-degree heat. But most of their 21-hour stay was to be spent in the spacious, air conditioned old Governor's House that the British left.

At a sweltering airport ceremony, both Nixon and Yahya referred to the shift since the days when America and Pakistan were close partners in the anti-Communist "southern tier" across Asia that John Foster Dulles put together.

With the United States bogged down in Vietnam and showing a marked antipathy toward participation in any more Asian wars, Pakistan has recently been cultivating relations with Communist China, her big northern neighbor.

Yahya recalled Nixon's visit as vice president in 1953 and said:

"That was the beginning of a new era of cooperation and mutual collaboration between our two countries. The pattern of our relations has changed somewhat since then, but there is no diminution in our mutual regard nor, I am happy to say, in your country's interest in Pakistan's well-being."

Ohio Senate OKs Pep Pill Curbs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A bill to put the use of pep pills under Ohio's dangerous drug law passed the Senate Thursday.

The bill expands the present statute to include amphetamines. The hopped up set, sponsors said, refer to one form of the drug as "speed."

The bill goes further than a House version. It prohibits the possession of any prescription drug unless obtained for medical purposes.

It ups the maximum penalty for violators from a $500 fine and a year in jail to a $5,000 fine and 20 years imprisonment.

The more common amphetamines are benzedrine, dexedrine and methamphetamine. Present law permits possession of up to 150 times the amount of a usual prescription.

The House must concur in Senate amendments to the bill before it can go to the governor for signing.

The Senate adopted 28-0 and sent to the House a bill to increase the amount of money in the Local Government Fund and reform the way it is distributed.

The fund now is made up of $24 million in sales tax revenue and the amount the state col-

Welfare Health Cost Spiral May Bring Change In Rules

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A boost of about $30 million in state costs for health care to welfare recipients in fiscal 1969 prompted State Auditor Roger Cloud to declare today that "some changes in rule-making will be required."

The auditor released a report showing total payments made by the state reached the $101,883,000 million mark in the period. He said the increase was approximately $30 million more than the previous fiscal year.

The costs include payments made to dentists, physicians, optometrists and pharmacies.

There were 717,400 cases in the 1969 fiscal year compared with 601,775 cases in 1968.

Cloud said health care provided by dentists jumped from $2,667,000 to $3,592,000 — up $925,000 or 34.6 per cent.

Cloud's office reported that Dr. Ronald F. Riviere of Columbus received $178,000 in state dental payments, plus $42,569 in payments from the Franklin County Welfare Agency for general relief recipients.

The state reimbursed the county for 75 per cent of the latter amount.

Ten dentists dealing with the state welfare program received payments in excess of $50,000 each. Included in the list were three who received more than $75,000. They were Drs. Marvin and Robert Schermer of Cleveland, $110,108; Dr. S. Schwartz, Cincinnati, $81,552; and Dr. Electa D. Green, Cleveland, $78,589.

Total payments to the physicians was $7.7 million, compared with $5.3 million in 1968.

Among physicians who treated welfare recipients were Dr. A. O. Allenius and Associates of Columbus who received a state payment of $152,782.32, while Dr. A. F. Luster of Cleveland was second highest with $68,277.

At the same time the report disclosed that optometrists collected a total of $1.198 million in fiscal 1969 compared with $731,000 in 1968.

Cost of medicines furnished by pharmacies was $13.9 million, compared with $10.5 million paid in fiscal 1968.

6 Persons Hurt In 4 Accidents

Six persons were injured in four separate accidents investigated by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department Thursday.

Mary Clark was referred to her doctor for chest and knee injuries suffered when the car she was riding in struck a cow.

Driver of the car, Paul D. Clark, 63, Route 2, Laurelville, reported the accident to Sheriff's Deputies 5:50 a.m. Friday.

The accident occurred on the Hayesville-Adelphi Road at the Pickaway-Salt Creek junction. The cow was owned by Paul Arnold, Route 1.

VERNAL Mac Selvage and Dana C. Borror were taken to Berger Hospital suffering from lacerations and abrasions to the chest in a two-car accident 4:50 p.m. Thursday on the Circleville-Commercial Point Road. Selvage told Sheriff's Deputies his steering wheel locked, forcing his car into a ditch. Borror, coming from the other direction, also took to the ditch to avoid a collision.

Kenneth Ray Hart, 27, Adelphi, and Robert King, 18, suffered facial lacerations suffered in a one-car accident 11 p.m. Thursday on the Tarlton-Adelphi Road.

Sheriff's deputies charged Hart with reckless operation. The car hit a ditch and rolled.

Kim Barnett, 6, Derby, suffered abrasions to her back when she was struck by a car while riding her bike Thursday.

Driver of the car, Gregory Picklesimer, 18, Derby, was cited by the Sheriff's Department.

Deaths

MR. PAUL J. BOZMAN

Mr. Paul J. Bozman, 64, of Ashville, died 5:30 p.m. Thursday in Mediveter Columbus.

Born October 26, 1904 in Urbana, he was the son of Ora and Edith Voke Bozman.

He was a stationary engineer with the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co., where he was a member of the Supervisor's and Quarter Century Clubs.

An Ashville resident for 40 years, he was a member and trustee of the Ashville Village United Methodist Church, the village safety director and chairman of the Planning and Zoning Commission. He was also a member of Ashville Community Club and past Fire Chief for the Ashville-Harrison Fire Department, where he had six years service.

He served with the U.S. Navy from 1923-1926; was a member of Masonic bodies, Knights of Pythias, Scioto Valley Grange, National Honor Society and Pickaway County Honor Society.

He is survived by his widow, Mary A.; one son, Thomas of Ashville; daughters, Mrs. Robert (Edith) Strawser and Mrs. Rance (Kay) Wolfe, both of Circleville; Mrs. Ernest (Mary) Maberry, Saco, Maine; Mrs. Norman (Phyllis) Russell, Ashville.

Also surviving are three sisters, Mrs. Lucy Cox and Mrs. Martha Helfrick of Urbana; Mrs. Imo Morris, New Philadelphia; 17 grandchildren; two great-grandchildren; nieces and nephews.

A son, Richard and two brothers preceded him in death.

Services will be 10:30 a.m. Monday at the Ashville Village United Methodist Church with Rev. John Morgan officiating. Burial will be in Floral Hills Cemetery.

Friends may call at the residence, 233 Cromley St., beginning 3 p.m. Saturday. Arrangements were completed by Bastian Funeral Home, Ashville.

MR. CLINTON SPEAKMAN

Mr. Clinton Speakman, 71, Amanda, died early Thursday morning at his residence.

Born Jan. 3, 1898 in Ross County, he was the son of John and Martha Kearn Speakman. He was a retired farmer.

Survivors include his wife Mrs. Edith Speakman; one son, Garold Speakman, Lancaster, and five grandchildren. He was preceded in death by one son, Robert.

Services will be 2 p.m. Sunday in the Taylor Funeral Home in Amanda, with burial in Green Summit Cemetery, Adelphi.

Wide Range Of Tax Reforms Planned By House Solons

WASHINGTON (AP) — Having completed a $7 billion tightening of the Internal Revenue Code, House tax reformers declared a tax relief dividend for all but the very rich.

Specialists for the House Ways and Means Committee forecast Thursday that by 1975 the reforms drafted by the panel would balance out with about $7 billion in new revenue and a like amount in tax reductions.

The first and biggest beneficiaries would be those at the low end of the income scale, but by 1972 all but the richest taxpayers—those with yearly incomes over $100,000—could look for at least a 5 per cent cut, the committee reported.

The bill—described by one member as bigger than a mail order catalog—is scheduled for House debate starting next Wednesday.

On the benefit side are general rate reductions in 1971 and 1972; special allowances to take some 2 million poor families off the tax rolls entirely, and tax cuts ranging up to 63 per cent in the lowest brackets.

The standard deduction, used by those who do not itemize would go up by 1972 from the present 10 per cent with a $1,000 ceiling, to 15 per cent with a $2,000 ceiling.

There are provisions to aid widows and widowers with children and single persons 35 or older who maintain households.

The maximum rate on earned income would go down from 70 to 50 per cent—but in the very highest brackets the reduction might be offset by crackdowns investment credit on business outlays for equipment, worth ultimately $3.3 billion.

Perhaps more eye catching, however, is a slash in the oil and gas depletion allowance from 27.5 to 20 per cent, accompanied by trimmings in other tax preferences available to the petroleum industry.

A minimum income tax was devised for persons who might still, despite the paring of separate tax advantages, have more than half their income sheltered from the tax collector.

Foundations would be taxed for the first time—at 7.5 per cent of their investment income.

More than a score of other provisions affect capital gains, real estate depreciation, farm losses, the unrelated business income of churches and other hitherto preferred items.

Ohio Bell Asks Big Increase In Charges

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Bell Telephone Co. asked approval today for rate increases ranging from $1.30 to $1.85 a month for residential telephone service and a boost of $1.65 to $3.55 a month for a flat-rate business line.

The company said the increases requested in an application before the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio (PUCO) would increase revenues $80 million a year.

The proposed boost in monthly local and long-distance rates was coupled with reductions in charges for other services, including charges for extension telephones, Ohio Bell said.

Vice President Charles K. Esler said the increase was needed because of rapidly rising labor costs, higher taxes and "an all-time high in the interest-cost of money for growth and modernization."

Esler said about half the increase in annual revenues—$40 million—would go to federal, state and local taxes.

The company's expansion plans call for expenditures of more than $200 million a year "well into the foreseeable future," an Ohio Bell statement said.

"Technological advances and operating efficiencies have made it possible to hold the line up until now," Esler said, "but with expenses rising faster than revenues this is no longer possible."

Partially offsetting the higher rates will be cuts in charges for residence extensions, which drop from 95 to 75 cents a month, reductions in connection charges for portable sets and elimination of the one-time $5 charge for princess and trimline phones.

NEW YORK (AP) — Holding onto most of its early gains, the stock market remained on higher ground early this afternoon as it extended its latest rally into a third session. Trading was very active.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 9.89 at 825.36. The DJI had been up 10.67 at 11 a.m.

Advances continued to hold a strong lead over declines, with more than 1,100 issues ahead and about 190 in the minus column.

A large part of the strong early advance was attributed by analysts to the "deeply oversold condition" the market had fallen to during its long decline.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 3.3 at 293.1, with industrials up 5.7, rails up 1.3, and utilities up 1.4. Steels mostly were fractionally higher. Several steel companies have announced price increases.

Firm Given $4 Million Missile Pact

LITTLE FALLS, N. J. (AP) — A Little Falls company has been awarded a $4 million contract to develop a guidance system for multiple warheads delivered by a single missile, a newspaper reported today.

In a copyrighted story, the Morning Call of Paterson said the contract was announced Thursday.

The paper said Singer General Precision Co. has been awarded the contract to develop a guidance system for missiles carrying the controversial Multiple-Targeted Independent Re-entry Vehicles (MIRV).

The program under which Singer General won the contract is called Advanced Ballistic Re-entry Systems (ABRES). It seeks to develop multiple warheads capable of evasive action in the face of any attempts to destroy them in flight.

MIRV is in its initial testing stages, but the Air Force is working toward warheads which could evade sophisticated anti-ballistic missile systems similar to the proposed Americas Safeguard now being debated in the Senate.

Air Force Major Hubert Moore said Thursday at the Pentagon that "results will insure effectiveness of future re-entry vehicles which may have to face sophisticated ballistic missile defense environments."

Only Light Action Reported As Viet War Lull Continues

SAIGON (AP) — The allied commands today reported scattered small clashes in various parts of Vietnam and a total of 128 enemy troops killed as the battlefield lull continued in its seventh week.

The heaviest action was reported by South Vietnamese forces who claimed 77 Viet Cong killed in two days of fighting 110 miles southwest of Saigon, near the provincial capital of Rach Gia.

Other government troops reported 20 of the enemy killed in a fight in the Mekong Delta province of Bac Lieu and 13 in Long An province 20 miles southwest of Saigon.

The U.S. Command said its forces killed 18 enemy, including six killed in a U.S. Marine ambush of a patrol near the demilitarized zone; seven killed by a helicopter gunship after they fired on the helicopter 30 miles northwest of Saigon, and five killed by 9th Infantry Division troops about 30 miles southwest of Saigon.

Six Marines were wounded in the ambush.

The allied commands also reported 11 enemy shelling attacks between 8 a.m. Thursday and 8 a.m. Friday but said only two of them caused damage or casualties. Two wounded Americans were among the casualties.

The U.S. Command also revised its published figures on the number of U.S. helicopters lost in the war, raising the total to 2,893. It said 1,254 of these were shot down.

A U.S. military source said the American command may soon abandon the practice of giving code names to its field operations in the northernmost 1st Corps tactical zone. The informant said this would avoid giving a "misleading impression" that U.S. forces are continuing massive sweeps in the five northern provinces.

Field operations now are carried on by smaller units sent out to detect enemy concentrations. In recent weeks, U.S. strategy has shifted from "maximum pressure" on the enemy to "protective reaction," a shift designed chiefly to hold down American casualties, U.S. sources have said.

The policy is one of responding in kind to the enemy on the battlefield, meaning that American forces are sent out in large units only when good intelligence information indicates enemy forces of sufficient size to warrant such operations.

Spacecraft, Apollo 11 Crew Reunited Inside Laboratory

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The spacecraft Columbia and the three astronauts who flew it to the moon and back have been reunited in the lunar quarantine station.

Technicians moved the Apollo 11 command module into its bay in the lunar receiving laboratory Thursday night. Officials said the astronauts would be able to visit it and retrieve personal gear left on board when it splashed down in the Pacific.

The crew—Neil A. Armstrong, Michael Collins and Edwin E. Aldrin Jr.—spent Thursday giving a seminar on their mission to the Apollo 12 astronauts, who plan to go to the moon in November.

Charles Conrad, the Apollo 12 commander, asked Armstrong if he thought a program of two moon walks, both with a longer duration than Armstrong's stroll of 2 hours 32 minutes, was feasible.

"Neil told him it was," said John McLeish, a public relations officer in quarantine with the Apollo 11 crew.

The spacemen gave the mission report to their colleagues from behind a glass wall of the lunar receiving laboratory. Conrad, his crewmates Richard Gordon and Alan Bean, and several other astronauts listened from the outside.

Meanwhile scientists in another part of the laboratory injected specks of moon material into the bodies of 24 germ-free mice in an experiment intended to smoke out possible moon microbes.

If there are living microorganisms in the moon matter, scientists expect them to develop rapidly in the mice, since the little animals have no immunity to such bodily invaders.

The space agency released Thursday night a series of pictures taken on the surface of the moon by Armstrong and Aldrin. One view showed Armstrong and Aldrin posing beside the American flag. Both men were unrecognizable in the bulky white space suits that kept them alive.

Welfare Health Cost Spiral May Bring Change In Rules

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A boost of about $30 million in state costs for health care to welfare recipients in fiscal 1969 prompted State Auditor Roger Cloud to declare today that "some changes in rule-making will be required."

The auditor released a report showing total payments made by the state reached the $101,883,000 million mark in the period. He said the increase was approximately $30 million more than the previous fiscal year.

The costs include payments made to dentists, physicians, optometrists and pharmacists.

There were 717,400 cases in the 1969 fiscal year compared with 601,775 cases in 1968. Cloud said health care provided by dentists jumped from $2,667,000 to $3,592,000 — up $925,000 or 34.6 per cent.

Cloud's office reported that Dr. Ronald F. Riviere of Columbus received $178,000 in state dental payments, plus $42,569 in payments from the Franklin County Welfare Agency for general relief recipients. The state reimbursed the county for 75 per cent of the latter amount.

Ten dentists dealing with the state welfare program received payments in excess of $50,000 each. Included in the list were three who received more than $75,000. They were Drs. Marvin and Robert Schermer of Cleveland, $110,108; Dr. S. Schwartz, Cincinnati, $81,552; and Dr. Electa D. Green, Cleveland, $78,589.

Total payments to the physicians was $7.7 million, compared with $5.3 million in 1968. Among physicians who treated welfare recipients were Dr. A. O. Allen and Associates of Columbus who received a state payment of $152,782.32, while Dr. A. F. Luster of Cleveland was second highest with $68,277.

At the same time the report disclosed that optometrists collected a total of $1,198 million in fiscal 1969 compared with $731,000 in 1968.

Cost of medicines furnished by pharmacies was $13.9 million, compared with $10.5 million paid in fiscal 1968.

Six persons were injured in four separate accidents investigated by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department Thursday.

Mary Clark was referred to her doctor for chest and knee injuries suffered when the car she was riding in struck a cow.

Driver of the car, Paul D. Clark, 63, Route 2, Laurelville, reported the accident to Sheriff's Deputies 5:50 a.m. Friday.

The accident occurred on the Hayesville-Adelphi Road at the Pickaway-Salt Creek junction. The cow was owned by Paul Arnold, Route 1.

VERNAL Mac Salvage and Dana C. Borror were taken to Berger Hospital suffering from lacerations and abrasions to the chest in a two-car accident 4:50 p.m. Thursday on the Circleville-Commercial Point Road. Salvage told Sheriff's Deputies his steering wheel locked, forcing his car into a ditch. Borror, coming from the other direction, also took to the ditch to avoid a collision.

Salvage was charged with driving left of center.

Kenneth Ray Hart, 27, Adelphi, and Robert King, 18, suffered facial lacerations suffered in a one-car accident 11 p.m. Thursday on the Turlington-Adelphi Road.

Sheriff's deputies charged Hart with reckless operation. The car hit a ditch and rolled.

Kim Barnett, 6, Derby, suffered abrasions to her back when she was struck by a car while riding her bike Thursday.

Driver of the car, Gregory Picklesimer, 18, Derby, was not cited by the Sheriff's Department.

President Eyes (Continued from Page 1) "some strains in our relations" over the years and said:

"What we want to do on this visit is to restore a friendship based on the mutual trust which is so essential to good relations between two countries."

Crowds along the five-mile route from the airport to the Governor's House waved flags and cheered, but the intense heat reduced the turnout. The crowd was considerably less than the throng that greeted Mrs. John F. Kennedy when she visited Lahore in 1962.

Nixon halted the motorcade once, to walk through a group of bobbing, weaving male dancers. With the dignified, swaggered Yehya in tow, Nixon plunged into the waiting crowd, smiling and shaking hands.

As Nixon and Yehya began their talks, the visiting chief of state said in a statement that he looked forward to "our sharing in candor our respective assessments of our national interests and informing each other of our views."

Nixon said he wanted to reaffirm a basic feeling of friendship and respect between the United States and Pakistan that he said has survived both good times and difficult ones.

He pledged that the United States will continue to give strong encouragement to Asian development but he said, "Asian hands must shape the Asian future."

Cincinnati (AP) — Police were holding a Michigan man for investigation after searching his residence here and finding credit cards belonging to women in the Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti areas.

The 22-year-old man was arrested after two patrolmen saw him walking along a city street Thursday and he ran into an alley.

The checkbook bore the name of an Oak Park, Mich., man. Later, police said they found the credit cards, and women's underclothes and luggage.

They would not speculate on any connection between the man and the murder of seven young women in and near Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti but did contact police in those cities.

Police here also said that they believe the man is wanted in Trenton, N. J., for parole violations and assault to rob. He has not been charged here.

The man said he came to Cincinnati two days ago. He did not say where in Michigan he is from.

Foundations would be taxed for the first time—at 7.5 per cent of their investment income.

More than a score of other provisions affect capital gains, real estate depreciation, farm losses, the unrelated business income of churches and other hitherto preferred items.

Partially offsetting the higher rates will be cuts in charges for residence extensions, which drop from 95 to 75 cents a month, reductions in connection charges for portable sets and elimination of the one-time $5 charge for princess and trimline phones.

NEW YORK (AP) — Holding onto most of its early gains, the stock market remained on higher ground early this afternoon as it extended its latest rally into a third session. Trading was very active.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 9.89 at 825.86. The DJI had been up 10.67 at 11 a.m.

Advances continued to hold a strong lead over declines, with more than 1,100 issues ahead and about 190 in the minus column.

A large part of the strong early advance was attributed by analysts to the "deeply oversold condition" the market had fallen to during its long decline.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 3.3 at 293.1, with industrials up 5.7, rails up 1.3, and utilities up 1.4. Steels mostly were fractionally higher. Several steel companies have announced price increases.

On the American Stock Exchange, Asamera Oil was most active up 3/4 at 24.

Circleville Municipal Court reported that bond forfeitures, fines and costs totaling 164 were collected yesterday from out of county motorists.

William J. Seum, 18, 140 Pleasant St., forfeited a $19 bond for making unnecessary noise with a motor vehicle.

Only Light Action Reported As Viet War Lull Continues

SAIGON (AP) — The allied commands today reported scattered small clashes in various parts of Vietnam and a total of 128 enemy troops killed as the battlefield lull continued in its seventh week.

The heaviest action was reported by South Vietnamese forces who claimed 77 Viet Cong killed in two days of fighting 110 miles southwest of Saigon, near the provincial capital of Rach Gia.

Other government troops reported 20 of the enemy killed in a fight in the Mekong Delta province of Bac Lieu and 13 in Long An province 20 miles southwest of Saigon.

The U.S. Command said its forces killed 18 enemy, including six killed in a U.S. Marine ambush of a patrol near the demilitarized zone; seven killed by a helicopter gunship after they fired on the helicopter 30 miles northwest of Saigon, and five killed by 9th Infantry Division troops about 30 miles south-west of Saigon.

Six Marines were wounded in the ambush. The allied commands also reported 11 enemy shelling attacks between 8 a.m. Thursday and 8 a.m. Friday but said only two of them caused damage or casualties. Two wounded Americans were among the casualties.

The U.S. Command also revised its published figures on the number of U.S. helicopters lost in the war, raising the total to 2,893. It said 1,254 of these were shot down.

A U.S. military source said the American command may soon abandon the practice of giving code names to its field

Spacecraft, Apollo 11 Crew Reunited Inside Laboratory

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The spacecraft Columbia and the three astronauts who flew it to the moon and back have been reunited in the lunar quarantine station.

Technicians moved the Apollo 11 command module into its bay in the lunar receiving laboratory Thursday night. Officials said the astronauts would be able to visit it and retrieve personal gear left on board when it splashed down in the Pacific.

The crew—Neil A. Armstrong, Michael Collins and Edwin E. Aldrin Jr.—spent Thursday giving a seminar on their mission to the Apollo 12 astronauts, who plan to go to the moon in November.

Charles Conrad, the Apollo 12 commander, asked Armstrong if he thought a program of two moon walks, both with a longer duration than Armstrong's stroll of 2 hours 32 minutes, was feasible.

"Neil told him it was," said John McLeish, a public relations officer in quarantine with the Apollo 11 crew.

The spacemen gave the mission report to their colleagues from behind a glass wall of the lunar receiving laboratory. Conrad, his crewmates Richard Gordon and Alan Bean, and several other astronauts listened from the outside.

Meanwhile scientists in another part of the laboratory injected specks of moon material into the bodies of 24 germ-free mice in an experiment intended to smoke out possible moon microbes.

If there are living microorganisms in the moon matter, scientists expect them to develop rapidly in the mice, since the little animals have no immunity to such bodily invaders.

The space agency released Thursday night a series of pictures taken on the surface of the moon by Armstrong and Aldrin. One view showed Armstrong and Aldrin posing beside the American flag. Both men were unrecognizable in the bulky white space suits that kept them alive.

Recordings Top July '68 Activity

The July report from the office of County Recorder Hazel M. Yeatts shows an increase in the work load over July, 1968 and only slightly down from the month of June.

A total of 242 recordings were processed which consisted of 133 deeds and 67 real estate mortgages involving monies of $1,041, 146.26.

The money involved in the cancellation of 49 real estate mortgages amounted to $503,519.70.

In addition, there were 42 miscellaneous recordings and 161 financing statements filed and processed by the recorder's office.

2 Marine Recruits Held For Threats

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (AP) — Three teen-age Parris Island Marine Corps recruits — one an Ohioan — are being held in the Richmond County jail today on charges of threatening the life of President Nixon.

The three, including Marvin Pyles, 19, of Cleveland, are accused of threatening the President in a letter mailed July 13 from the base.

operations in the northernmost 1st Corps tactical zone. The informant said this would avoid giving a "misleading impression" that U.S. forces are continuing massive sweeps in the five northern provinces.

Field operations now are carried on by smaller units sent out to detect enemy concentrations. In recent weeks, U.S. strategy has shifted from "maximum pressure" on the enemy to "protective reaction," a shift designed chiefly to hold down American casualties, U.S. sources have said.

The policy is one of responding in kind to the enemy on the battlefield, meaning that American forces are sent out in large units only when good intelligence information indicates enemy forces of sufficient size to warrant such operations.

alone in a crater, his brilliant white suit showing splashes of moon dust, suggesting that he might have fallen to his knees. In his gold visor, the moon lander, Armstrong and the flag were clearly reflected.

The space agency also released motion picture film showing Collins shaving in space, Armstrong and Aldrin with the flag, and the moon's surface receding as the lunar module took off.

OSP Investigates 80 July Accidents

The Ohio State Highway patrol investigated 80 accidents during the month of July. One accident was fatal and 44 persons were injured.

The patrol made 574 arrests last month, five for felonies, and 14 for drunken driving.

They inspected 2863 automobiles and 137 buses and approximately 59 per cent (1692) were found to have defects.

The OSP assisted 498 stranded motorists and recovered four stolen cars during July.

6 Persons Hurt In 4 Accidents

Six persons were injured in four separate accidents investigated by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department Thursday.

Mary Clark was referred to her doctor for chest and knee injuries suffered when the car she was riding in struck a cow.

Driver of the car, Paul D. Clark, 63, Route 2, Laurelville, reported the accident to Sheriff's Deputies 5:50 a.m. Friday.

The accident occurred on the Hayesville-Adelphi Road at the Pickaway-Salt Creek junction. The cow was owned by Paul Arnold, Route 1.

VERNAL Mac Salvage and Dana C. Borror were taken to Berger Hospital suffering from lacerations and abrasions to the chest in a two-car accident 4:50 p.m. Thursday on the Circleville-Commercial Point Road. Salvage told Sheriff's Deputies his steering wheel locked, forcing his car into a ditch. Borror, coming from the other direction, also took to the ditch to avoid a collision.

Salvage was charged with driving left of center.

Kenneth Ray Hart, 27, Adelphi, and Robert King, 18, suffered facial lacerations suffered in a one-car accident 11 p.m. Thursday on the Turlington-Adelphi Road.

Sheriff's deputies charged Hart with reckless operation. The car hit a ditch and rolled.

Kim Barnett, 6, Derby, suffered abrasions to her back when she was struck by a car while riding her bike Thursday.

Driver of the car, Gregory Picklesimer, 18, Derby, was not cited by the Sheriff's Department.

Ohio Bell Asks Big Increase In Charges

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Bell Telephone Co. asked approval today for rate increases ranging from $1.30 to $1.85 a month for residential telephone service and a boost of $1.65 to $3.55 a month for a flat-rate business line.

The company said the increases requested in an application before the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio (PUCO) would increase revenues $80 million a year.

The proposed boost in monthly local and long-distance rates was coupled with reductions in charges for other services, including charges for extension telephones, Ohio Bell said.

Vice President Charles K. Esler said the increase was needed because of rapidly rising labor costs, higher taxes and "an all-time high in the interest-cost of money for growth and modernization."

Esler said about half the increase in annual revenues—$40 million—would go to federal, state and local taxes.

The company's expansion plans call for expenditures of more than $200 million a year "well into the foreseeable future," an Ohio Bell statement said.

"Technological advances and operating efficiencies have made it possible to hold the line up until now," Esler said, "but with expenses rising faster than revenues this is no longer possible."

Partially offsetting the higher rates will be cuts in charges for residence extensions, which drop from 95 to 75 cents a month, reductions in connection charges for portable sets and elimination of the one-time $5 charge for princess and trimline phones.

Stock Market Stays Higher

NEW YORK (AP) — Holding onto most of its early gains, the stock market remained on higher ground early this afternoon as it extended its latest rally into a third session. Trading was very active.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 9.89 at 825.86. The DJI had been up 10.67 at 11 a.m.

Advances continued to hold a strong lead over declines, with more than 1,100 issues ahead and about 190 in the minus column.

A large part of the strong early advance was attributed by analysts to the "deeply oversold condition" the market had fallen to during its long decline.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 3.3 at 293.1, with industrials up 5.7, rails up 1.3, and utilities up 1.4. Steels mostly were fractionally higher. Several steel companies have announced price increases.

On the American Stock Exchange, Asamera Oil was most active up 3/4 at 24.

Phone Company Hit By Complaint

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A complaint against service of the Northern Ohio Telephone Co. was filed with the Public Utilities Commission Wednesday on behalf of some 1,600 Medina County telephone subscribers.

State Rep. George Mastics R-52 Cleveland, who filed the complaint, charged that the company with 16 counts of inadequate service. I twas Mastics who two years ago convinced the PUCO to deny a bid by Ohio Bell Telephone Co. to levy continuing charges for use of special telephone models.

The charges against Northern include customer inability to reach operators, place long distance calls, avoid interference on the lines, obtain equipment which works properly, obtain repair service or receive satisfaction on complaints.

deepest reluctance, editor William Hinkle has had to discontinue the publication. Mr. Hinkle said it has been increasingly harder in recent years to make income meet expense and with the prospect of even more inflation, it has become clear that it is no longer physically possible to keep producing a quality newspaper on a weekly basis. He added that he plans to publish editions at special times such as at election time, 4th of July, etc.

Mr. Hinkle would like to thank all the correspondents, advertisers and friends who have helped throughout the years.

Although the publication of the weekly newspaper will be discontinued, the commercial department of the Pickaway County News will continue operation and expand into new fields and job printing will be continued.

Sp. 4 Joe Leatherwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Leatherwood is now stationed at Ft. Carson, Colorado. He recently spent a seventeen day leave with his parents and brother, Kelly.

Debbie Irwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Irwin and Jody Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Harris, are attending Girl Scout Camp Arrowhead, Jackson, Ohio, for two weeks. Both girls are in the Advanced Canoeing Unit. On Monday of this week they started a canoe trip on Racoon River in Gallia County, the trip to continue through Thursday.

The annual Cook Reunion will be held at noon on Sunday, August 3 in the closed shelter house of the Community Park.

The Youth Fellowship of the Zion United Methodist Church will again be collecting papers during the second week in August. Be sure to save them for the young folks.

The Bastian Funeral Home ambulance made the following runs this past week: July 26 took Lester Bowen to Berger Hospital; July 28 returned Mr. Arthur Bowman to his home from Doctors Hospital in Columbus; July 28 took Ben Stevenson to Berger Hospital in Circleville.

Andrew Ward, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Ward, recently spent a leave from the U.S. Navy with his parents and sister, Joni. He returned to Mayport, Florida, Tuesday accompanied by his mother and aunt, Mrs. Emerson Brown. Andy is stationed aboard the U.S.S. William V. Pratt, a guided missile ship.

Mrs. Mary Helen Miller, Candy and Mary Ann and Mrs. Jean Weigand and Neil are vacationing in Florida. They spent last week at the Hawaiian Inn, Daytona Beach. They are to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dennis in Orlando this week.

Mr. Paul Bozman is critically ill and as of Tuesday was still in a coma following a severe stroke last Wednesday. He is confined to the Medcenter, Columbus.

For the first time in many, many years, the village of Ashville will no longer have a newspaper published and distributed weekly to the residents of the village and the surrounding community. With

Once again the members of the Ashville Community Club were most gracious hosts at a buffet supper Monday evening at the shelter house in the Community Park. Three hundred and fifty persons attended the annual Helpers Picnic. Those attending included the many helpers and their families. Serving the meal is the way the members of the Community Club express their thanks to all who in any way whatsoever helped with the celebration.

The menu of the smorgasbord consisted of shrimp, assorted cold cuts, including ham and pork roll, breads, cheeses, potato salad, bean salad, assorted relishes, brockwurst and sauerkraut, soft drinks and a large assortment of fresh fruit for dessert. This meal was most delicious and enjoyed by all in attendance, young and old alike.

President, Art Deal Jr., welcomed the helpers and their families and expressed his personal thanks as well as those of the club for the help all gave in making this year's celebration a success.

President Deal introduced Miss Karen Lombardo, Miss 4th of July. She told of her many visits to other festivals since becoming Miss 4th of July and of the events she plans to attend in the future. One of these of most importance is the Melon Festival at Milan, Ohio, August 30 - September 1. At this event the Queen of Ohio Festivals will be chosen and Karen will appear as one of the contestants. She expressed her wish that as many Ashville Community people would attend as would be possible. Plans are now being made to charter a bus on August 31 for the festival and queen contest. Anyone interested is asked to contact Don Forquer for information.

Miss Lombardo introduced a member of her court, Miss Bonnie Peters, who was the second runner-up in the Miss 4th of July Contest. The other member of the court, Miss Holly Bach, was unable to attend.

Mr. Orlan Hines, representing the Ashville Bank, presented Miss Lombardo with a monetary gift from the bank to help defray her expenses while traveling over the state. The Ashville Bank was Karen's sponsor in the contest.

Following the dinner, games were played by those in attendance and prizes awarded the winners.

Romania Won't Be New To Nixon

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Bucharest, Romania's dusty capital, will not be new to President Nixon. He visited there in 1967 as a private citizen and had a long and cordial talk with the man who runs the country.

At 51, Nicolai Ceausescu is both head of state equivalent to president—and chief of the Communist party 1.8 million members which rules the country of about 20 million. He remains an orthodox Communist in domestic affairs, but in the foreign and trade fields he is a maverick, insisting on independence from Moscow.

Under Ceausescu's leadership, the government has been stable, and he is pushing young technocrats into positions of authority.

Ceausescu is ambitious for Romania's industrial future. Even now it is largely an agricultural country, but last year the nation had a spectacular 10 per cent gain in its growth rate. The chemical industry is booming and gets a fifth of all government industrial investment funds. There is heavy stress on petrochemicals.

The Romanians can assert a certain amount of independence because they are less dependent than others in East Europe upon the Soviet Union. Romania has the largest oil and gas reserves in Europe. In addition, it has agreements with many non-Communist nations, and particularly with Arab nations and Venezuela, also big oil producers.

Romania derives its name from the people's claim to descent from the early Romans. The language is based on Latin. But there is heavy Oriental influence, a reminder of the hundreds of years of rule by the Ottoman Empire.

Romania became an independent kingdom late in the 19th century. In World War II it was brought into the conflict on the side of the Germans, and the war laid waste much of the nation, so that recovery was a long, uphill climb.

In 1948, during the Soviet occupation of the country, it was taken over by the Communists and became a "people's democracy." It went through all the tortures of other people's democracies, including the violent blood purges of the Stalin era. The counterpurgue of Stalinists after the Soviet dictator's death finally ended in 1957, and the nation has been stable since then.

As President Nixon flies in he will see the fertile plains of the Danube basin below rugged Carpathian peaks. In Bucharest he will be able to note the signs of what led to the decay of the monarchy, the huge, crumbling old mansions of yellow stucco which once were the homes of Romania's small wealthy class.

12 Bishops Consecrated By Pope Paul

KAMPALA, Uganda (AP)—Pope Paul VI alternated church business and peacemaking today as he consecrated 12 new bishops for Africa and then met with political leaders.

The consecrations, which took place at an outdoor Mass celebrated with 40 bishops, are the first that a Pope has performed outside Italy in modern times.

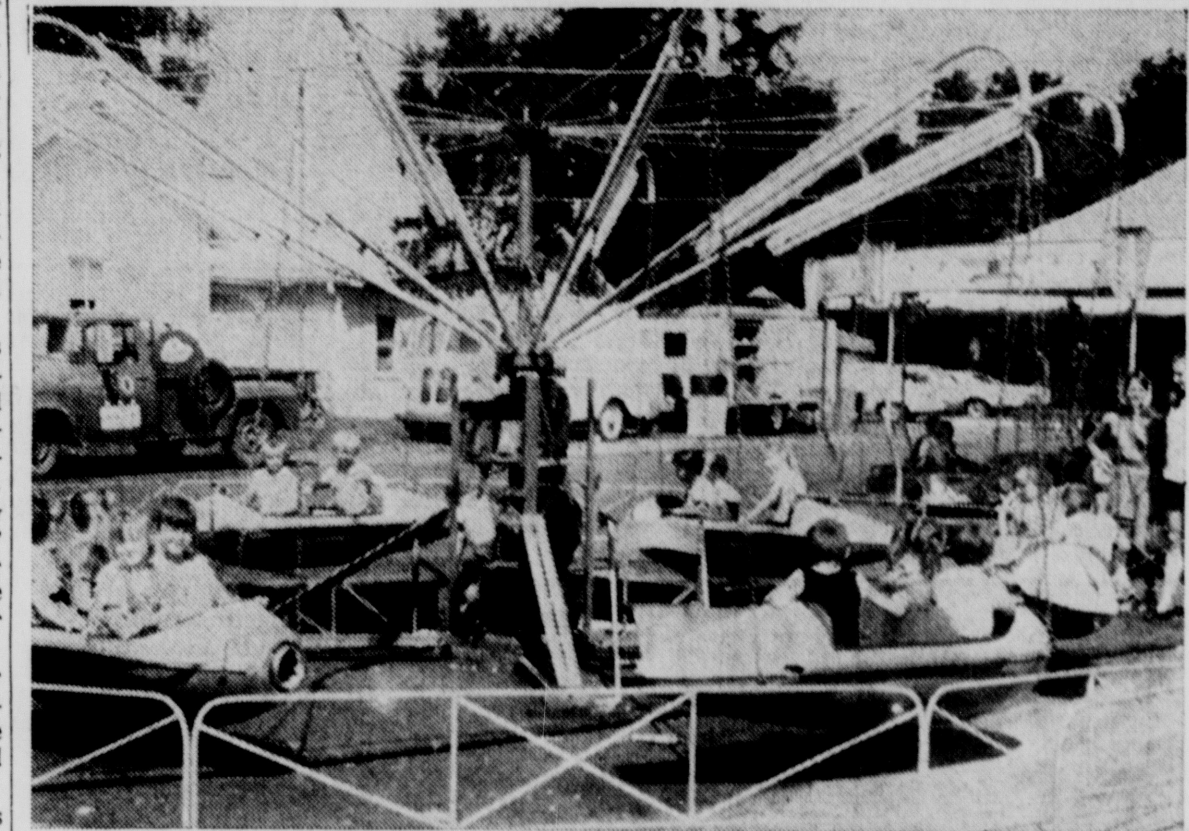

Pope Paul exalted the virtues of bishops—"self denial, courage, constancy, wisdom and sacrifice"—but urged the prelates to steer clear of political involvement.

"You must work in poverty and often against opposition," the Pope continued, "and your hearts should be open to the children, to youth, to the poor and all who suffer."

"You must also lend your service to help build up civil society, while remaining free from political engagements and temporal interests."

Several parts of the Mass were sung by a choir in Luganda, the language of the former kingdom of Buganda in which Kampala is located.

After the ceremony, the 71-year-old pontiff began a series of meetings with African heads of state who had come for his visit, and with delegations from warring Nigeria and Biafra.

FAIR DAY — About 350 students from county Head Start programs visited the Pickaway County Fair Thursday morning. Merry-go-round rides and three other children's rides of the groups' choosing were enjoyed by Head Starters and instructors alike. The students riding the airplanes are from the Ashville Head Start group. All groups had a sack lunch at the coliseum to watch the tractor pull.

This reporter, and I'm sure all those attending the dinner, would like to take this opportunity to say a big thanks to the Community Club for another delicious meal and a very fine evening of entertainment.

Debbie Irwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Irwin and Jody Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Harris, are attending Girl Scout Camp Arrowhead, Jackson, Ohio, for two weeks. Both girls are in the Advanced Canoeing Unit. On Monday of this week they started a canoe trip on Racoon River in Gallia County, the trip to continue through Thursday.

The annual Cook Reunion will be held at noon on Sunday, August 3 in the closed shelter house of the Community Park.

The Youth Fellowship of the Zion United Methodist Church will again be collecting papers during the second week in August. Be sure to save them for the young folks.

The Bastian Funeral Home ambulance made the following runs this past week: July 26 took Lester Bowen to Berger Hospital; July 28 returned Mr. Arthur Bowman to his home from Doctors Hospital in Columbus; July 28 took Ben Stevenson to Berger Hospital in Circleville.

Andrew Ward, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Ward, recently spent a leave from the U.S. Navy with his parents and sister, Joni. He returned to Mayport, Florida, Tuesday accompanied by his mother and aunt, Mrs. Emerson Brown. Andy is stationed aboard the U.S.S. William V. Pratt, a guided missile ship.

Mrs. Mary Helen Miller, Candy and Mary Ann and Mrs. Jean Weigand and Neil are vacationing in Florida. They spent last week at the Hawaiian Inn, Daytona Beach. They are to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dennis in Orlando this week.

Mr. Paul Bozman is critically ill and as of Tuesday was still in a coma following a severe stroke last Wednesday. He is confined to the Medcenter, Columbus.

For the first time in many, many years, the village of Ashville will no longer have a newspaper published and distributed weekly to the residents of the village and the surrounding community. With

Phone Company Hit By Complaint

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A complaint against service of the Northern Ohio Telephone Co. was filed with the Public Utilities Commission Wednesday on behalf of some 1,600 Medina County telephone subscribers.

State Rep. George Mastics R-52 Cleveland, who filed the complaint, charged that the company with 16 counts of inadequate service. I was Mastics who two years ago convinced the PUCO to deny a bid by Ohio Bell Telephone Co. to levy continuing charges for use of special telephone models.

The charges against Northern include customer inability to reach operators, place long distance calls, avoid interference on the lines, obtain equipment which works properly, obtain repair service or receive satisfaction on complaints.

deepest reluctance, editor William Hinkle has had to discontinue the publication. Mr. Hinkle said it has been increasingly harder in recent years to make income meet expense and with the prospect of even more inflation, it has become clear that it is no longer physically possible to keep producing a quality newspaper on a weekly basis. He added that he plans to publish editions at special times such as at election time, 4th of July, etc.

Mr. Hinkle would like to thank all the correspondents, advertisers and friends who have helped throughout the years.

Although the publication of the weekly newspaper will be discontinued, the commercial department of the Pickaway County News will continue operation and expand into new fields and job printing will be continued.

Sp. 4 Joe Leatherwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Leatherwood is now stationed at Ft. Carson, Colorado. He recently spent a seventeen day leave with his parents and brother, Kelly.

Romania Won't Be New To Nixon

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Bucharest, Romania's dusty capital, will not be new to President Nixon. He visited there in 1967 as a private citizen and had a long and cordial talk with the man who runs the country.

12 Bishops Consecrated By Pope Paul

KAMPALA, Uganda (AP)—Pope Paul VI alternated church business and peacemaking today as he consecrated 12 new bishops for Africa and then met with political leaders.

The consecrations, which took place at an outdoor Mass celebrated with 40 bishops, are the first that a Pope has performed outside Italy in modern times.

Pope Paul exalted the virtues of bishops—"self denial, courage, constancy, wisdom and sacrifice"—but urged the prelates to steer clear of political involvement.

"You must work in poverty and often against opposition," the Pope continued, "and your hearts should be open to the children, to youth, to the poor and all who suffer."

"You must also lend your service to help build up civil society, while remaining free from political engagements and temporal interests."

Several parts of the Mass were sung by a choir in Luganda, the language of the former kingdom of Buganda in which Kampala is located.

After the ceremony, the 71-year-old pontiff began a series of meetings with African heads of state who had come for his visit, and with delegations from warring Nigeria and Biafra.

mains an orthodox Communist in domestic affairs, but in the foreign and trade fields he is a maverick, insisting on independence from Moscow.

Under Ceausescu's leadership, the government has been stable, and he is pushing young technocrats into positions of authority.

Ceausescu is ambitious for Romania's industrial future. Even now it is largely an agricultural country, but last year the nation had a spectacular 10 per cent gain in its growth rate. The chemical industry is booming and gets a fifth of all government industrial investment funds. There is heavy stress on petrochemicals.

The Romanians can assert a certain amount of independence because they are less dependent than others in East Europe upon the Soviet Union. Romania has the largest oil and gas reserves in Europe. In addition, it has agreements with many non-Communist nations, and particularly with Arab nations and Venezuela, also big oil producers.

Romania derives its name from the people's claim to descent from the early Romans. The language is based on Latin. But there is heavy Oriental influence, a reminder of the hundreds of years of rule by the Ottoman Empire.

Romania became an independent kingdom late in the 19th century. In World War II it was brought into the conflict on the side of the Germans, and the war laid waste much of the nation, so that recovery was a long, uphill climb.

In 1948, during the Soviet occupation of the country, it was taken over by the Communists and became a "people's democracy." It went through all the tortures of other people's democracies, including the violent blood purges of the Stalin era. The counterpurgue of Stalinists after the Soviet dictator's death finally ended in 1957, and the nation has been stable since then.

As President Nixon flies in he will see the fertile plains of the Danube basin below rugged Carpathian peaks. In Bucharest he will be able to note the signs of what led to the decay of the monarchy, the huge, crumbling old mansions of yellow stucco which once were the homes of Romania's small wealthy class.

OEA Lobby Flies Solon Back To U.S.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Education Association is going to fly a legislator-professor home from Europe so he can express his views in a House-Senate conference committee on Ohio's $2.2 billion education bill.

John H. Hall, the organization's chief statehouse lobbyist, confirmed Thursday his group intends to pick up the tab to fly Sen. Oliver Ocasak D-27 Akron back from Vienna, Austria, or Switzerland to sit on the panel. Ocasak, a member of OEA's ruling executive committee and a professor at the University of Akron, is one of OEA's staunchest allies in the senate.

While he left on a three-week group tour to Europe last Sunday, he was assigned Wednesday to a six-member house-senate conference committee to work out differences on the education tax package.

According to one airline, Ocasak's round trip fare back to Columbus next Monday and then back to Europe late next week would cost the OEA from $600 to nearly $1,000 depending on his departure and return port in Europe.

"We've been very open about this," Hall told newsmen. "If we hadn't agreed to pay his fare, he probably would never have left (for Europe) in the first place."

Tiny particles of the Moon's surface, called tektites landed on the Earth's surface about 700,000 years ago, say geologists. That makes us think it certainly was high time the human race did return the compliment.

The tektites were caused, according to NASA scientist, when a big meteorite hit the Moon and splashed liquid droplets into space. Must have been quite a show — even if no one saw it.

The tribe of Indians who sold New York City's site to the Dutch were called the Manhattans — Factograph item. That figures.

The United States did not adopt Daylight Saving Time until some 140 years after, with old Benjamin Franklin suggested it. That sure adds up to a lot of daylight wasted time!

hility the consuming public confers only on names that signify high quality products.

Even competitors in the household products line concede the excellence of workmanship, the durability of materials and the marketing know-how of the Skilcraft organization.

So why shouldn't Skilcraft blow its horn? It does, quietly. Beneath the tradename, in type so small that many supermarket shoppers perhaps never notice, is the tiny addendum: "Quality Blind-Made Products."

In just four years the Skilcraft line, whose products are made by blind and sometimes multiple handicapped workers in 78 workshops in 34 states and the District of Columbia, has signed up 1,538 supermarkets.

Typically, about 60 colorfully wrapped products are arranged on a large rack in the stores. Sighted workers keep the racks filled and the storeowner is billed by computer from offices of the National Industries for the Blind here.

What impresses storeowners, says Robert Goodpasture, executive vice president of the nonprofit NIB, is that the racks require almost no servicing by store personnel. And profits convince them the racks are good business.

The rack displays average about $1,000 a year of retail sales, although the newest ones draw in about $3,500 each.

Skilcraft is perhaps one of the happiest developments in utilizing the skills of the blind, of whom there are about 425,000 in the United States, for the appeal is almost solely to quality and not to sympathy.

It began in 1965 when NIB, which serves the nonprofit workshops, realized that fully $25 million a year of its sales were to the federal government.

Just as have other industries which feared too great a dependence upon one customer, the NIB decided to expand into other lines and other markets. The result was the Skilcraft line of convenience products.

A quality control laboratory in St. Louis takes samples from the production lines and determines from time to time if the products live up to the standards claimed for them. Usually they do.

In developing its supermarket line, the NIB didn't foresake government work. Blind workers still make all military ties. And each month they turn out 125,000 bayonet scabbards.

In fact, blind workers recently moved into an entirely new area of government work, supplying ballpoint pens. They now assemble 60 million a year at a cost to the government of about 6 cents apiece.

Stars Of The '30s

By BOB THOMAS

AP Television-Movie Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The recent deaths of Judy Garland and Robert Taylor caused many reminiscing Americans to wonder if the great figures of Hollywood's Golden Era—the 1930s—were disappearing.

This is to reassure such worriers: large numbers of the stars of the 1930s are still alive and well.

Indeed, some of them are still functioning at the top of their profession. Katharine Hepburn is as much in demand as she was when she won the first of her three Oscars for "Morning Glory" in 1932. Henry Fonda and James Stewart are making a Western together at Santa Fe, N.M.

Fredric March ended a so-called retirement to sign for two pictures. Edward G. Robinson makes more films than any name performer. Bob Hope is always busy. Cary Grant could work for any studio, but he seems to prefer being a business executive these days.

What about John Wayne, Anthony Quinn, William Holden, Glenn Ford? All got their starts in the 1930s, though they didn't reach top stardom until later. Many of the grande dames of the Golden Era remain active in films and-or television: Bette Davis, Rosalind Russell, Joan Crawford, Myrna Loy, Olivia de Havilland, Jane Wyman, Barbara Stanwyck, Lana Turner, Ann Sothern, Helen Hayes, Ida Lupino, Merle Oberon, Lucille Ball.

These male stars of the 1930s also keep busy: David Niven, Charles Boyer, Fred MacMurray, Mickey Rooney, Pat O'Brien, Walter Pidgeon, Robert Young, Lew Ayres, Robert Cummings, Melvyn Douglas, Bing Crosby, Groucho Marx,

Don Ameche. Ginger Rogers, Betty Grable and Dorothy Lamour did their things in "Hello, Dolly!" Jean Arthur came out of retirement for a short-lived television series. Others who make occasional appearances in films or television or the theater:

Jack Oakie, Joan Blondell, Richard Arlen, Buddy Rogers, Rudy Vallee, Cesar Romero, George Raft, Ruby Keller, Chester Morris, Alan Jones, Marie Wilson, Joel McCrea, Ray Milland, Douglas Fairbanks Jr., Marlene Dietrich, Alice Faye, Eleanor Powell and Jane Withers, the lady plumber in those television commercials.

Loretta Young, Irene Dunne and Claudette Colbert have done little performing in recent years but might be lured back with the right role. Less probable is the return of another 1930s star, Greta Garbo, though producers keep trying. James Cagney still resists the repeated urgings to give up his retirement. Norma Shearer has never returned since her last film in 1942. Child star Jackie Cooper is now a television executive, and Shirley Temple combines housewifery and politics. Freddie Bartholomew became an advertising executive.

Among the others who are retired or in other professions: William Powell, Robert Montgomery, Randolph Scott, Scottie Henie, George Brent, Deanna Durbin, Madeleine Carroll, Johnny Weismuller, Fay Wray, Louise Rainer, Gene Autry, Janet Gaynor, Charles Farrell, Paulette Goddard, Joe E. Brown.

And if you remember all those names, you've got to be over 40 or a student of the late, late show.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

IN HIS NEW BOOK, "Golfmanship," Stephen Potter claims acquaintance with one dufer who is so afflicted with a sense of doom about his playing that he cries piteously, "Oh, what a fool I am" in the middle of every down-swing—with results too appalling to contemplate.

I myself once enjoyed jousting with a man who not only managed miraculously to play worse than I did, but also walloped the back of his neck with his club every time he used a wood. He finally had to quit playing entirely. His neck gave out.

A disillusioning evening in the life of the late Dashiell Hammett, author of "The Maltese Falcon," came when he dined at the home of one of the most glamorous movie queens of the silent era, Miss Jean Harlow. The surroundings were elegant, the English butler impeccable—until Miss Harlow summoned him to order, "Open the window, James, and leave in a tiny air."

In a home where the dove of peace rarely fluttered, an angry mother threatened her teen-age daughter, "Just you wait till your father comes home." So she waited—and by the time he came home she was forty-two years old.

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Eight years ago I contracted gonorrhea and was treated early and intensively with drugs. I have not had any other venereal disease. I am now contemplating marriage at the age of 29 and am deeply concerned that I might still transmit disease to my wife.

How can I be sure that there is no danger of this?

Mr. H. H., California
Dear Mr. H.: I have written repeatedly about the growing menace of venereal disease and the need for it being stemmed by proper education of the young.

Your story is not unlike many that were told to doctors everywhere. Within the framework of your letter is a special kind of morality that I admire. Sometimes the obligation one must feel to a new wife is overlooked. One of the legal safeguards against transmission of disease is that all people have a premarital physical examination and blood study for syphilis. A marriage license should not be issued to anyone who has active, transmissible syphilis.

The likelihood is that you no longer have any trace of that gonorrhea infection, especially since it was treated early and forcefully. Nevertheless, there are smears and cultures which can readily tell if the germ, the gonococcus, is still active in your system. Your doctor, of course, will give you complete clearance and assure you that in the absence of the germ, there is little or no chance of transmitting such an infection to your wife.

I must point out that young men and young women take this infection too lightly. It is not "like a cold," as they would like to believe. Sterility especially in women whose tubes and ovaries have been infected, is a common and sad result of gonorrhea.

A surgeon has recommended an operation for a hernia which I have had for thirty years. I have worn a truss and the hernia seems only a little larger than it ever was. Do surgeons always suggest surgery for such a condition?

Mr. T.J.R., North Carolina
Dear Mr. R.: No, surgeons do not always favor an operation when the specific need does not exist. There are special reasons why an operation may be necessary even after such a long period of time during which your hernia was no cause of dif-faculty. Many times a simple hernia may remain untroublesome and then suddenly grow larger and become complicated. Perhaps this occurred in your case.

One of the most difficult social problems is the trust that is lacking between human beings. As a surgeon, I have for years been aware that some patients can never be impressed by the honesty and integrity of the people who surround them. My own experience has been that this distrust is a greater reflection on the "distruster" than on the "distrustee."

Please do not let your own distrust of a doctor's integrity lead you into the possibility of converting a simple operation into a complicated one. In a mature, not a suspicious way, you can, through your own doctor, get an additional opinion from another source.

Today is Friday, Aug. 1, the 213th day of 1969. There are 152 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1914, Germany declared war on Russia at the outbreak of World War I.

On this date: In 1502, Christopher Columbus landed in what is now Honduras.

In 1790, the first U.S. census was taken.

In 1907, an aeronautical division was set up in the U.S. Army Signal Corps. The U.S. Air Force traces its beginning to this date.

In 1946, the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission was established. Ten years ago — Vice President Richard M. Nixon, visiting the Soviet Union, made a broadcast in which he called for "a just peace based on mutual respect."

Five years ago — The space agency said pictures taken by a Ranger spacecraft showed the moon's surface was suitable for a landing by man.

Making It Rough For Blacks

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Black capitalism, says Whitney Young of the Urban League, is a sham. If Mr. Young is referring to programs for government help for black capitalists, he is certainly hitting pretty close to the mark. The Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO), the Small Business Administration (SBA), and the Department of Commerce all have ambitions for promoting black capitalism, but most of their energies in this direction seem to be dissipated in bureaucratic quarrels over prestige. If the current situation persists, we shall end up with nothing more substantial to show than a few black supermarkets under "whitey's" government control.

When we do have a bona fide black capitalist organization in being, the government seemingly does its best to throw sand in the economic gears. There is the case of Dr. Thomas Matthew's NEGRO (or National Economic Growth and Reconstruction Organization), for example. NEGRO is a New York-based non-profit holding company, financed by ten-year bonds, which employs more than five hundred people and has an annual payroll of over $1 million. It owns the 140-bed Interfaith Hospital in Queens, which Dr. Matthew started when he was still a practicing neurosurgeon. One of its subsidiaries, the Domo Chemical Company, began by manufacturing chemicals for the Interfaith Hospital, but it is now producing for the general market, incidentally making a disinfectant that is used in Vietnam for washing U.S. army mess gear, fresh fruit and vegetables.

Another NEGRO subsidiary, Domo Textile, was set up to make uniforms for hospital employees. It has branched out to manufacture dresses for singer Miriam Makeba's Caribbean boutiques and "free fashions" that are now on sale at Abraham and Straus, Alexander's, and other New York department stores.

Another NEGRO subsidiary runs bus lines in the Watts section of Los Angeles, and would also operate lines in New York if the authorities were less sticky with their franchises.

The black capitalism practiced by Dr. Matthew's NEGRO is admittedly not pure capitalism; it makes no fetish of efficiency and where it can employ two, ten or twelve hard-core cases to do work that might be done more swiftly by one expert using a complicated machine, it does not hesitate to give the hard-core people a break. Even at that, it has turned up as the low bidder for government contracts. And right here hangs a most lugubrious tale.

At a press conference in Washington the other day Dr. Matthew complained that NEGRO subsidiaries have been denied contracts totaling more than $5.1 million on which they were the "responsible low bidders." One of the bids was for a bandolier contract with the Pentagon. According to Dr. Matthew, his product was deemed acceptable and his price was lower than the next person's price, yet the bid was turned down because NEGRO did not wish to comply with a hastily-raised technical demand that it purchase some multi-stitch sewing machines. Such machines would put hard-core employees now used in operating single-stitch machines out of work. Dr. Matthew considers the technological decisions of NEGRO to be its own business, provided it can live up to contract specifications for quality, delivery, and price.

To dramatize his argument with the Pentagon, Dr. Matthew is opening what he calls a "minifactory" at 733 North Capitol Street in Washington, within sight of the nation's Capitol. The "minifactory" intends to demonstrate NEGRO's capacity to produce various products for the Department of Defense. Dr. Matthew says he could have saved the DOD $1 million of the taxpayers' money that the government has been paying out unnecessarily because contracts on which NEGRO was the low bidder went to other manufacturers.

In a quibble, Dr. Matthew refers to his NEGRO as "black socialism" competing in a capitalist market. What he means is that he is forced to rely in good part for investment funds on the good will of black penny savers who buy his bonds for reasons of mutual protection, which to his way of thinking constitutes a sort of voluntary socialism. He'd really prefer to be accepted as a pure capitalist competitor when he offers the Pentagon the lowest bid for his bandoliers.

According to Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Has any man on earth ever eaten a space helmet?

Well, facing me is the dubious pleasure of consuming not one but two.

This unusual gastronomic task results from succumbing to the most alluring of temptations that beset a columnist—the desire to forecast the future. The columnist rashly forgets that the neck he happens to stick out happens to be his own.

On Nov. 29, 1963—another of those days that will live in infamy—I wrote a column which contained this flat-footed prediction: "There's a lot of talk about landing a man on the moon by 1970. But I'm willing to eat the helmet of any man who gets to the moon and back by 1975."

A reader who must have the memory of a passel of pachyderms dug up my flat-headed paragraph and sent it to Tom O'Neill, features editor of the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, who relayed it here with the simple notation:

"Okay, Hal—how about it?"

Well, I'm a man of my word, and I don't mind too much having to munch down those first two space helmets. But we have a number of other moon landings planned before 1975, and if I have to eat the helmets of all our successful lunar astronauts, I'm likely to wind up with plastic insides.

John H. Hall, the organization's chief lobbyist, confirmed Thursday his group intends to pick up the tab to fly Sen. Oliver Oakes D-27 Akron back from Vienna, Austria, or Switzerland to sit on the panel. Oakes, a member of OEA's ruling executive committee and a professor at the University of Akron, is one of OEA's staunchest allies in the senate.

While he left on a three-week group tour to Europe last Sunday, he was assigned Wednesday to a six-member house-senate conference committee to work out differences on the education tax package.

According to one airline, Oakes' round trip fare back to Columbus next Monday and then back to Europe late next week would cost the OEA from $600 to nearly $1,000 depending on his departure and return port in Europe.

"We've been very open about this," Hall told newsmen. "If we hadn't agreed to pay his fare, he probably would never have left (for Europe) in the first place."

Tiny particles of the Moon's surface, called tektites landed on the Earth's surface about 700,000 years ago, say geologists. That makes us think it certainly was high time the human race did return the compliment.

The tektites were caused, according to a NASA scientist, when a big meteorite hit the Moon and splashed liquid droplets into space. Must have been quite a show — even if no one saw it.

The tribe of Indians who sold New York City's site to the Dutch were called the Manhattans — Factograph item. That figures.

The United States did not adopt Daylight Saving Time until some 140 years after wise, old Benjamin Franklin suggested it. That sure adds up to a lot of daylight wasted time!

Time certainly flies! Today an old-timer is a person who remembers when an 11-inch TV screen was termed "giant size."

Rabbits really don't like to eat carrots — nature item. Now there's a fact that somehow we find hard to swallow.

Our office atlas reveals that the so-called Thousand Islands number 1,700. That's quite a hefty bonus — 700 extra islands!

Meredith Says Blacks Need To Look Ahead

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Civil rights marcher James Meredith, on a 1,000-mile trek from Chicago to New York, says blacks are spending too much energy worrying about the past instead of moving toward the future with a positive attitude.

hility the consuming public confers only on names that signify high quality products.

Even competitors in the household products line concede the excellence of workmanship, the durability of materials and the marketing know-how of the Skilcraft organization.

So why shouldn't Skilcraft blow its horn? It does, quietly. Beneath the tradename, in type so small that many supermarket shoppers perhaps never notice, is the tiny addendum: "Quality Blind-Made Products."

In just four years the Skilcraft line, whose products are made by blind and sometimes multiple handicapped workers in 78 workshops in 34 states and the District of Columbia, has signed up 1,538 supermarkets.

Typically, about 60 colorfully wrapped products are arranged on a large rack in the stores. Sighted workers keep the racks filled and the storeowner is billed by computer from offices of the National Industries for the Blind here.

What impresses storeowners, says Robert Goodpasture, executive vice president of the non-profit NIB, is that the racks require almost no servicing by store personnel. And profits convince them the racks are good business.

The rack displays average about $1,000 a year of retail sales, although the newest ones draw in about $3,500 each.

Skilcraft is perhaps one of the happiest developments in utilizing the skills of the blind, of whom there are about 425,000 in the United States, for the appeal is almost solely to quality and not to sympathy.

It began in 1965 when NIB, which serves the non-profit workshops, realized that fully $25 million a year of its sales were to the federal government.

Just as have other industries which feared too great a dependence upon one customer, the NIB decided to expand into other lines and other markets. The result was the Skilcraft line of convenience products.

A quality control laboratory in St. Louis takes samples from the production lines and determines from time to time if the products live up to the standards claimed for them. Usually they do.

In developing its supermarket line, the NIB didn't forego government work. Blind workers still make all military ties. And each month they turn out 125,000 bayonet scabbards.

In fact, blind workers recently moved into an entirely new area of government work, supplying ballpoint pens. They now assemble 60 million a year at a cost to the government of about 6 cents apiece.

Stars Of The '30s

By BOB THOMAS

AP Television-Movie Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The recent deaths of Judy Garland and Robert Taylor caused many reminiscing Americans to wonder if the great figures of Hollywood's Golden Era—the 1930s—were disappearing.

This is to reassure such worriers: large numbers of the stars of the 1930s are still alive and well.

Indeed, some of them are still functioning at the top of their profession. Katharine Hepburn is as much in demand as she was when she won the first of her three Oscars for "Morning Glory" in 1932. Henry Fonda and James Stewart are making a Western together at Santa Fe, N.M.

Fredric March ended a so-called retirement to sign for two pictures. Edward G. Robinson makes more films than any name performer. Bob Hope is always busy. Cary Grant could work for any studio, but he seems to prefer being a business executive these days.

What about John Wayne, Anthony Quinn, William Holden, Glenn Ford? All got their starts in the 1930s, though they didn't reach top stardom until later.

Many of the grande dames of the Golden Era remain active in films and on television: Bette Davis, Rosalind Russell, Joan Crawford, Myrna Loy, Olivia de Havilland, Jane Wyman, Barbara Stanwyck, Lana Turner, Ann Sothern, Helen Hayes, Ida Lupino, Merle Oberon, Lucille Ball.

These male stars of the 1930s also keep busy: David Niven, Charles Boyer, Fred MacMurray, Mickey Rooney, Pat O'Brien, Walter Pidgeon, Robert Young, Lew Ayres, Robert Cummings, Melvyn Douglas, Bing Crosby, Groucho Marx.

Don Ameche. Ginger Rogers, Betty Grable and Dorothy Lamour did their things in "Hello, Dolly!" Jean Arthur came out of retirement for a short-lived television series. Others who make occasional appearances in films or television or the theater:

Jack Oakie, Joan Blondell, Richard Arlen, Buddy Rogers, Rudy Vallee, Cesar Romero, George Raft, Ruby Keller, Chester Morris, Allan Jones, Marie Wilson, Joel McCrea, Ray Milland, Douglas Fairbanks Jr., Marlene Dietrich, Alice Faye, Eleanor Powell and Jane Withers, the lady plumber in those television commercials.

Loretta Young, Irene Dunne and Claudette Colbert have done little performing in recent years but might be lured back with the right role. Less probable is the return of another 1930s star, Greta Garbo, though producers keep trying.

James Cagney still resists the repeated urgings to give up his retirement. Norma Shearer has never returned since her last film in 1942. Child star Jackie Cooper is now a television executive, and Shirley Temple combines housewifery and politics.

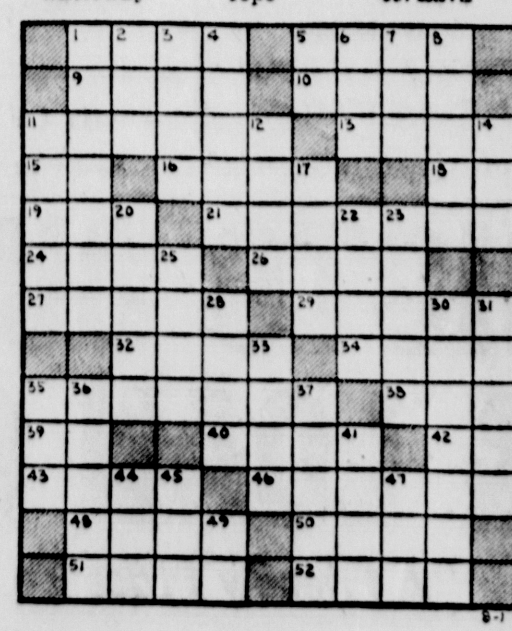

Freddie Bartholomew became an advertising executive. Among the others who are retired or in other professions: William Powell, Robert Montgomery, Randolph Scott, Sonja Henie, George Brent, Deanna Durbin, Madeleine Carroll, Johnny Weismuller, Fay Wray, Louise Rainer, Gene Autry, Janet Gaynor, Charles Farrell, Paulette Goddard, Joe E. Brown.

And if you remember all those names, you've got to be over 40 or a student of the late, late show.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

IN HIS NEW BOOK, "Golfmanship," Stephen Potter claims I acquaintance with one duffer who is so afflicted with a sense of doom about his playing that he cries piteously, "Oh, what a fool I am" in the middle of every down-swing—with results too appalling to contemplate.

I myself once enjoyed jousting with a man who not only managed miraculously to play worse than I did, but also walloped the back of his neck with his club every time he used a wood. He finally had to quit playing entirely. His neck gave out.

A disillusioning evening in the life of the late Dashiell Hammett, author of "The Maltese Falcon," came when he dined at the home of one of the most glamorous movie queens of the silent era, Miss Jean Harlow. The surroundings were elegant, the English butler impeccable—until Miss Harlow summoned him to order, "Open the window, James, and leave in a tiny air."

In a home where the dove of peace rarely fluttered, an angry mother threatened her teen-age daughter, "Just you wait till your father comes home." So she waited—and by the time he came home she was forty-two years old.

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Eight years ago I contracted gonorrhea and was treated early and intensively with drugs. I have not had any other venereal disease. I am now contemplating marriage at the age of 29 and am deeply concerned that I might still transmit disease to my wife.

How can I be sure that there is no danger of this?

Mr. H. H., California
Dear Mr. H.: I have written repeatedly about the growing menace of venereal disease and the need for it being stemmed by proper education of the young.

Your story is not unlike many that were told to doctors everywhere. Within the framework of your letter is a special kind of morality that I admire. Sometimes the obligation one must feel to a new wife is overlooked. One of the legal safeguards against transmission of disease is that all people have a premarital physical examination and blood study for syphilis. A marriage license should not be issued to anyone who has active, transmissible syphilis.

The likelihood is that you no longer have any trace of that gonorrheal infection, especially since it was treated early and forcefully. Nevertheless, there are smears and cultures which can readily tell if the germ, the gonococcus, is still active in your system. Your doctor, of course, will give you complete clearance and assure you that in the absence of the germ, there is little or no chance of transmitting such an infection to your wife.

I must point out that young men and young women take this infection too lightly. It is not "like a cold," as they would like to believe. Sterility especially in women whose tubes and ovaries have been infected, is a common and sad result of gonorrhea.

A surgeon has recommended an operation for a hernia which I have had for thirty years. I have worn a truss and the hernia seems only a little larger than it ever was. Do surgeons always suggest surgery for such a condition?

Mr. T.J.R., North Carolina
Dear Mr. R.: No, surgeons do not always favor an operation when the specific need does not exist. There are special reasons why an operation may be necessary even after such a long period of time during which your hernia was no cause of dif-

Making It Rough For Blacks

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Black capitalism, says Whitney Young of the Urban League, is a sham. If Mr. Young is referring to programs for government help for black capitalists, he is certainly hitting pretty close to the mark. The Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO), the Small Business Administration (SBA), and the Department of Commerce all have ambitions for promoting black capitalism, but most of their energies in this direction seem to be dissipated in bureaucratic quarrels over prestige. If the current situation persists, we shall end up with nothing more substantial to show than a few black supermarkets under "whitey's" government control.

When we do have a bona fide black capitalist organization in being, the government seemingly does its best to throw sand in the economic gears. There is the case of Dr. Thomas Matthew's NEGRO (or National Economic Growth and Reconstruction Organization), for example. NEGRO is a New York-based non-profit holding company, financed by ten-year bonds, which employs more than five hundred people and has an annual payroll of over $1 million. It owns the 140-bed Interfaith Hospital in Queens, which Dr. Matthew started when he was still a practicing neurosurgeon. One of its subsidiaries, the Domo Chemical Company, began by manufacturing chemicals for the Interfaith Hospital, but it is now producing for the general market, incidentally making a disinfectant that is used in Vietnam for washing U.S. army mess gear, fresh fruit and vegetables.

Another NEGRO subsidiary, Domco Textile, was set up to make uniforms for hospital employees. It has branched out to manufacture dresses for singer Miriam Makeba's Caribbean boutiques and "free fashions" that are now on sale at Abraham and Straus, Alexander's, and other New York department stores.

Another NEGRO subsidiary runs bus lines in the Watts section of Los Angeles, and would also operate lines in New York if the authorities were less sticky with their franchises.

The black capitalism practiced by Dr. Matthew's NEGRO

According to Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Has any man on earth ever eaten a space helmet?

Well, facing me is the dubious pleasure of consuming not one but two.

This unusual gastronomic task results from succumbing to the most alluring of temptations that beset a columnist—the desire to forecast the future. The columnist rashly forgets that the neck he happens to stick out happens to be his own.

On Nov. 29, 1963—another of those days that will live in infamy—I wrote a column which contained this flat-footed prediction:

"There's a lot of talk about landing a man on the moon by 1970. But I'm willing to eat the helmet of any man who gets to the moon and back by 1975."

A reader who must have the memory of a passel of pachyderms dug up my flat-headed paragraph and sent it to Tom O'Neill, features editor of the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, who relayed it here with the simple notation:

"Okay, Hal—how about it?"

Well, I'm a man of my word, and I don't mind too much having to munch down those first two space helmets. But we have a number of other moon landings planned before 1975, and if I have to eat the helmets of all our successful lunar astronauts, I'm likely to wind up with plastic insides.

Even bigger than the prospective blow to my digestive apparatus is the blow to my pride. Columnists, like other people, are gifted with more hindsight than foresight.

When it comes to prognosticating, I must confess I've been eating humble pie for some time. My face must be the reddest, as well as the lowest, on the totem pole.

For example, just before

Adolf Hitler came up with the jet plane, the buzz bomb, and the V-2 rocket, what columnist pooch-pooched the Nazi leader's boast that he would unleash deadly new secret weapons?

Just little old me, that's who. And, untainted by this public boo-boo, what columnist predicted in early August 1945, just before we dropped two atomic bombs, that it would take six months of ground warfare to defeat Japan?

Little old me, that's who. And what columnist, returning in July 1963, from a three-month stint in Vietnam, confidently predicted the war there would be over in two or three years at the most?

Little old me, that's who. And finally, what columnist, showing his mastery of women's fashions, predicted that the fad for miniskirts would last only a few months, because it forced too many girls to reveal their homely gams?

Little old me, that's who.

Fairborn Man Dies; Shot By Policeman
FAIRBORN, Ohio (AP) — A Fairborn man died in Wright-Patterson Air Force Base Hospital early today after being shot by a policeman outside his Greene County home late Wednesday night.

Authorities said the victim was Donald Sizemore, 32, who had been wounded twice by bullets fired by Patrolman R. J. Beard. The officer was relieved of duty pending an investigation of the case.

Miss Kathleen Hull of Scioto County commenced her duties as superintendent of nurses at Berger Hospital.

Everett Thomas of Route 3, won the 4-H Tractor Rodeo held at the Howard Thomas farm and would represent Pickaway County at the Ohio State Rodeo. Second place winner was Larry Beougher of Route 1, Laurelville.

Following the traditional custom, all city parking was free when downtown businesses held their annual "Dollar Day" of bargains.

Circleville's first all-gas model home, "The House of Enchantment" was open for inspection at Markley Rd.

A total of 17 tax levies and two bond issues were on record at the county board of elections.

Two Circleville youths were taken into custody after they were caught shooting a BB gun at stock car drivers during a race at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds.

John C. Goeller, of 304 E. Mount St., foremost business and civic leader of Circleville, died at the age of 87. He at one time operated a broom factory, served as Mayor of the city also as president of city council and held the office of President of the Circleville Savings and Banking Co. which he helped organize in 1912.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Her Friends Will Tell Her!

DEAR ABBY: I usually go along with your advice, but you and I part company when it comes to one subject:

When a woman writes that her friend's husband is cheating on his wife, and asks if she should tip off the wife, you always say, "KEEP QUIET!"

I think you're wrong. I knew of three cases where the husbands were cheating on their wives, and I tipped off the wives, and every one of them THANKED me for telling her.

If MY husband ever cheats on me, I would certainly want my friends to tip ME off.

Sincerely,
FORT DODGE
DEAR FORT: Don't worry. They will.

DEAR ABBY: I am a middle-aged, happily married husband, and the father of three wonderful daughters, 18, 17 and 14.

I have had to travel much of the time, but when I'm home we share rather close quarters, and our daughters have grown up with very little "modesty"—even in front of their father.

For the last year I have found myself becoming embarrassingly stimulated by seeing my daughters in various stages of undress, and lounging around in the shorty-see-thru nighties.

Governor's Wife Has Talk Show

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Mrs. Betty Hughes, wife of New Jersey Gov. Richard J. Hughes, is joining the ranks of the TV talk hosts.

Mrs. Hughes has signed a contract with WCAU-TV in Philadelphia for an afternoon talk show beginning Sept. 22.

The program will be aimed at women and will have a wide variety of guests.

Without revealing my problem to my wife, I suggested that she impress upon the girls the need for modesty, even around their father. She, too, scoffed until I cut out your column dealing with this subject, and placed it on her breakfast plate. Without a spoken word, all is now well.

Abby, I never would have touched my daughters, but the sight of a beautiful nude female can excite any normal male, and he need not be "perverted" or dirty old man to be aroused by his own daughter.

EMBARRASSED BUT HONES
DEAR EMBARRASSED: It may interest you to know that I received many letters saying exactly what you have said. (And a few calling me a "dirty old lady" for having published the first one.)

DEAR ABBY: Interesting that a recent correspondent's brother with "girlish ways" was not permitted to express them, and then became an alcoholic.

We allowed my younger brother to "express himself" in what we thought were harmless ways at Halloween, masquerades, and school plays. He is now 22, and the best dressed girl on the block! (At least in private and on his solitary walks in the evening.)

It is incredible! He doesn't just roll up his trouser legs and use a little lipstick. He goes in for girdles, bras, heels, wigs and every type of make-up conceivable. It's gotten so that now I borrow things from HIM.

All we can do now is to protect him from detection and social embarrassment. It's all very puzzling, but we live with it and try to understand and be sympathetic to our "Barbara."

"HER" OLDER SISTER
CONFIDENTIAL TO "ALL KEYS UP:" I still don't believe that the "key game" is as popular among sophisticated suburbanites as you say it is. There is more talk about "wife swapping" than there is actual "swapping."

Views on Television

For CYNTHIA LOWRY
By JERRY BUCK
AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Not long ago two bright young writers were dividing their time between two projects: a pilot show for a television series and a Movie of the Week for ABC.

What happened was, the television series went down the drain and the movie ended up in ABC's fall schedule as a Monday night series.

The show that made it is "Love, American Style" and the two writers, who also are the executive producers, are Arnold Margolin and Jim Parker.

"Some people think we're doing 'The Erotic Life of the American Housewife.' They won't let us have a casting couch," said Margolin.

Each hour-long show is divided into three separate stories about people in and out of love. They run from 7 to 25 minutes, and every story, every week, has a different cast. Among those who will be appearing are Imogene Coca, Phyllis Diller, Richard Deacon, Flip Wilson, Ozzie and Harriet Nelson, Dorothy Lamour, Robert Cummings, Bob Crane and Garry Moore.

The segments will be bridged by blackouts relating to men and women.

"This is a comedy show," said Margolin. "We try to do stories which have relevance to today. We have a story about a mother and father debating about whether to slip the pill into their daughter's orange juice. A guy who finds a girl's name and number scratched on a phone booth. Two people living together but not married because they get more Social Security that way.

"The funniest stories are the kind of things that happen to people. Everybody's got at least one or two stories that happened to them that they want to tell."

"And everybody's got a few stories they can't tell," Parker added.

The two have been writing partners for five years. Both dress in mod clothes, and Margolin has thick, dark curly hair and long sideburns. On his face he wears a perpetual look of amusement, as though he has just recalled a favorite gag line. Parker has sandy brown hair and a beard and wears steel-rimmed glasses.

Besides producing "Love, American Style," they are writing the screen play for "Star-Spangled Girl" and an hour mystery-comedy pilot for another television series.

The pilot they originally were working on was "Houseboat," based on the Cary Grant-Sophia Loren movie. "We were very, very happy with 'Houseboat,'" Margolin said. "We thought it would sell."

"And we thought 'Love' wouldn't," Parker said.

Attitude Is Obstacle Of Social Work

"My office deals with everything from pollution to poverty, all unpleasant subjects."

He says, "The prime object of social work is to change a person's attitude from a negative to a positive one. Giving people money without teaching them to have pride in themselves is no answer to our welfare problems."

How The Weather Looks

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary for Ohio:

A weak cool front stretched across Michigan and northern Indiana this morning and was expected to make rather slow progress across Ohio today and Saturday.

A band of scattered thunder-showers reached the extreme northwest portion of Ohio early this morning and will be moving slowly into the state today. The highest probability of precipitation is in the northwest half of the state through this evening. Scattered thunder-showers are expected to reach the southeast portions of the state tonight.

Temperature changes likely will be minor through tonight. Lows tonight will be in the 60s and low 70s. Cooler readings are forecast for the northern portions on Saturday.

Highs Thursday, under mostly sunny skies, ranged in the low to mid 80s.

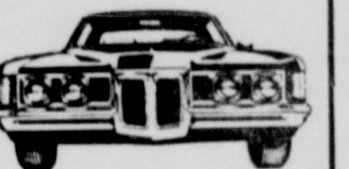

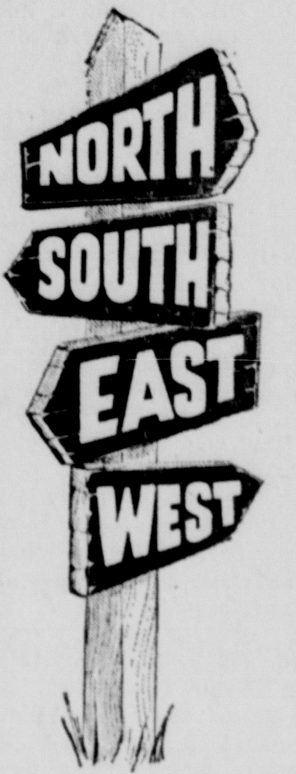

FORECASTS

NORTHWEST OHIO — Partly cloudy with little change in temperatures tonight. Thunder-showers likely. Lows in the 60s. Partly cloudy and a little cooler Saturday with a chance of thunder-showers. Highs near 80. Outlook Sunday: Cooler with a chance of thunder-showers.

CENTRAL, EAST CENTRAL OHIO — Partly cloudy with little change in temperatures tonight and Saturday. A chance of thunder-showers. Highs Saturday in the low to mid 80s. Lows tonight in the 60s and low 70s. Outlook Sunday: A little cooler with a chance of thunder-showers.

OHIO FIVE - DAY FORECAST
A cool period is indicated with temperatures averaging below normal Saturday through Wednesday. Daytime highs will be in the upper 70s to near 80 north and in the lower 80s south. Overnight lows will be in the upper 50s north and the lower 60s south. Warming over the weekend to near normal, but turning cooler early next week with little change thereafter. Precipitation will average .5 to .75 inch as showers and thunder-showers Sunday and Monday and again about the middle of the week.

I have had to travel much of the time, but when I'm home we share rather close quarters, and our daughters have grown up with very little "modesty"—even in front of their father.

For the last year I have found myself becoming embarrassingly stimulated by seeing my daughters in various stages of undress, and lounging around in the shorty-see-thru nighties.

Governor's Wife Has Talk Show

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Mrs. Betty Hughes, wife of New Jersey Gov. Richard J. Hughes, is joining the ranks of the TV talk hosts.

Mrs. Hughes has signed a contract with WCAU-TV in Philadelphia for an afternoon talk show beginning Sept. 22.

The program will be aimed at women and will have a wide variety of guests.

Without revealing my problem to my wife, I suggested that she impress upon the girls the need for modesty, even around their father. She, too, scoffed until I cut out your column dealing with this subject, and placed it on her breakfast plate. Without a spoken word, all is now well.

Abby, I never would have touched my daughters, but the sight of a beautiful nude female can excite any normal male, and he need not be "perverted" or dirty old man to be aroused by his own daughter.

EMBARRASSED BUT HONES
DEAR EMBARRASSED: It may interest you to know that I received many letters saying exactly what you have said. (And a few calling me a "dirty old lady" for having published the first one.)

DEAR ABBY: Interesting that a recent correspondent's brother with "girlish ways" was not permitted to express them, and then became an alcoholic. We allowed my younger brother to "express himself" in what we thought were harmless ways at Halloween, masquerades, and school plays. He is now 22, and the best dressed girl on the block! (At least in private and on his solitary walks in the evening.)

It is incredible! He doesn't just roll up his trouser legs and use a little lipstick. He goes in for girdles, bras, heels, wigs and every type of make-up conceivable. It's gotten so that now I borrow things from HIM.

All we can do now is to protect him from detection and social embarrassment. It's all very puzzling, but we live with it and try to understand and be sympathetic to our "Barbara."

"HER" OLDER SISTER
CONFIDENTIAL TO "ALL KEYS UP:" I still don't believe that the "key game" is as popular among sophisticated suburbanites as you say it is. There is more talk about "wife swapping" than there is actual "swapping."

Views on Television

For CYNTHIA LOWRY
By JERRY BUCK
AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Not long ago two bright young writers were dividing their time between two projects: a pilot show for a television series and a Movie of the Week for ABC.

What happened was, the television series went down the drain and the movie ended up in ABC's fall schedule as a Monday night series.

The show that made it is "Love, American Style" and the two writers, who also are the executive producers, are Arnold Margolin and Jim Parker.

"Some people think we're doing 'The Erotic Life of the American Housewife.' They won't let us have a casting couch," said Margolin.

Each hour-long show is divided into three separate stories about people in and out of love. They run from 7 to 25 minutes, and every story, every week, has a different cast. Among those who will be appearing are Imogene Coca, Phyllis Diller, Richard Deacon, Flip Wilson, Ozzie and Harriet Nelson, Dorothy Lamour, Robert Cummings, Bob Crane and Garry Moore.

The segments will be bridged by blackouts relating to men and women.

"This is a comedy show," said Margolin. "We try to do stories which have relevance to today. We have a story about a mother and father debating about whether to slip the pill into their daughter's orange juice. A guy who finds a girl's name and number scratched on a phone booth. Two people living together but not married because they get more Social Security that way.

"The funniest stories are the kind of things that happen to people. Everybody's got at least one or two stories that happened to them that they want to tell."

"And everybody's got a few

stories they can't tell," Parker added.

The two have been writing partners for five years. Both dress in mod clothes, and Margolin has thick, dark curly hair and long sideburns. On his face he wears a perpetual look of amusement, as though he has just recalled a favorite gag line. Parker has sandy brown hair and a beard and wears steel-rimmed glasses.

Besides producing "Love, American Style," they are writing the screen play for "Star-Spangled Girl" and an hour mystery-comedy pilot for another television series.

The pilot they originally were working on was "Houseboat," based on the Cary Grant-Sophia Loren movie. "We were very, very happy with 'Houseboat,'" Margolin said. "We thought it would sell."

"And we thought Love wouldn't," Parker said.

Attitude Is Object Of Social Work

SANTA FE, N. M. (AP) — John Jasper, director of New Mexico's Health and Social Services Department, which handles state welfare, sums up his job this way:

"My office deals with everything from pollution to poverty, all unpleasant subjects."

He says, "The prime object of social work is to change a person's attitude from a negative to a positive one. Giving people money without teaching them to have pride in themselves is no answer to our welfare problems."

Lutheran Church Sets Bible School

Vacation Bible School will be held at Trinity Lutheran Church beginning Aug. 4 and continuing through Aug. 15. Classes will be held from 9 until 11:30 a.m. for children from three through 13 years of age.

The theme this year is "Living God's Way." The purpose of the theme is to teach the children that God made us his children and God tells us how he wants us to live.

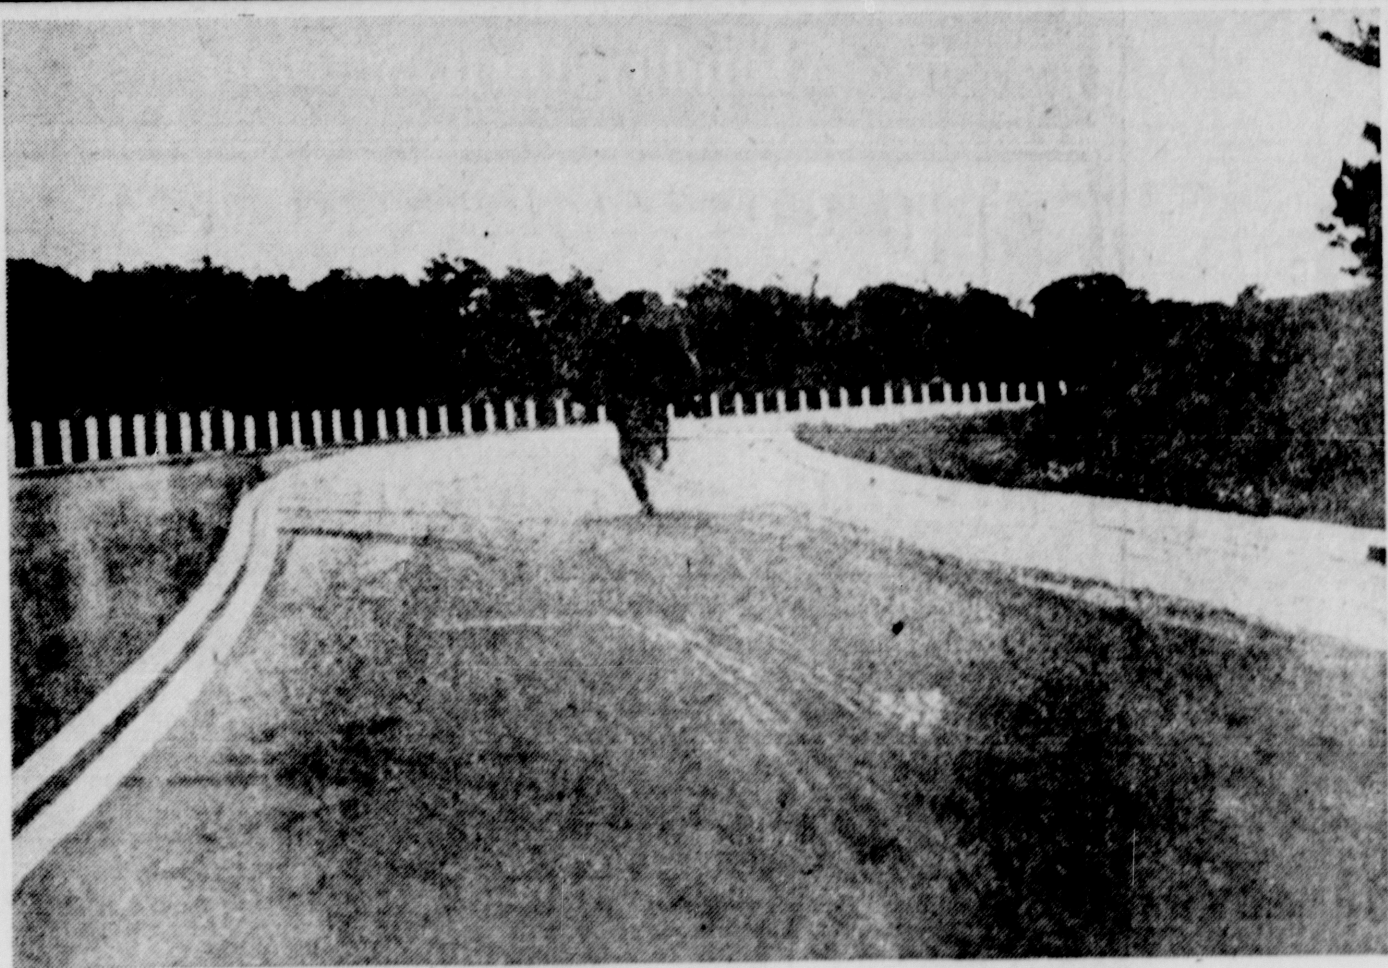

Handicrafts will be creative and "stress the Bible stories. There will be music and refreshments each day.

Youth Fellowship To Attend Rally

Youth Fellowship of Calvary United Methodist Church will meet 3:30 p.m. Sunday to attend a district youth rally at the Stoutsville Camp.

How The Weather Looks

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary for Ohio:

A weak cool front stretched across Michigan and northern Indiana this morning and was expected to make rather slow progress across Ohio today and Saturday.

A band of scattered thunder-showers reached the extreme northwest portion of Ohio early this morning and will be moving slowly into the state today. The highest probability of precipitation is in the northwest half of the state through this evening. Scattered thunder-showers are expected to reach the southeast portions of the state tonight.

Temperature changes likely will be minor through tonight. Lows tonight will be in the 60s and low 70s. Cooler readings are forecast for the northern portions on Saturday.

Highs Thursday, under mostly sunny skies, ranged in the low to mid 80s.

FORECASTS

NORTHWEST OHIO — Partly cloudy with little change in temperatures tonight. Thunder-showers likely. Lows in the 60s. Partly cloudy and a little cooler Saturday with a chance of thunder-showers. Highs near 80. Outlook Sunday: Cooler with a chance of thunder-showers.

CENTRAL, EAST CENTRAL OHIO — Partly cloudy with little change in temperatures tonight and Saturday. A chance of thunder-showers. Highs Saturday in the low to mid 80s. Lows tonight in the 60s and low 70s. Outlook Sunday: A little cooler with a chance of thunder-showers.

OHIO FIVE - DAY FORECAST
A cool period is indicated with temperatures averaging below normal Saturday through Wednesday. Daytime highs will be in the upper 70s to near 80 north and in the lower 80s south. Overnight lows will be in the upper 50s north and the lower 60s south. Warming over the weekend to near normal, but turning cooler early next week with little change thereafter. Precipitation will average .5 to .75 inch as showers and thunder-showers Sunday and Monday and again about the middle of the week.

Mrs. Bernard Savey Sweeps Honors At Pickaway County Fair Flower Show

By RUTH MONTELIUS
Garden Editor

Mrs. Bernard Savey did practically the impossible at Thursday's Flower Show at the Pickaway County Fair.

She won the Best of Show honors for both Monday and Thursday. She ended up with the grand total of 18 blue ribbons, four seconds, and two thirds. This is out of 24 entries.

Mrs. Savey is undoubtedly one of the finest arrangers to be found anywhere. She has great imagination plus skill with the mechanics and add to this artistic and creative ability and the outstanding garden she raises, not to mention the hours of hard work and time spent studying the schedule ahead of time.

All of these are factors that go into Best of Show winners. As with any art form, it takes practice and hard work along with the talent. Pauline will be the first to admit this.

But she has that certain something that makes for winning arrangements that are outstanding and unforgettable.

The winning arrangement was an abstract design consisting of a black free form base featuring a branch of unusual shape (which incidentally she found on the banks of Scippo Creek on the Montelius' farm) treated to make it look frosted (how this was done is a trade secret) and two yellow canna blooms were used along with a green cana leaf.

Mrs. Charles Huston, Route 3, who wants to be known as a farmer's wife who is not above operating a tractor, walked off with Sweepstakes honors in the two shows. She had a grand total of 53 points. There were 12 blue ribbons for her to take home. Eight of these were gained Thursday. Mrs. Huston will be the incoming president of the Soliqua Garden Club.

The clerks for the day were Mrs. Ted Corcoran and Mrs. John Beck.

Mrs. Vance C. Hendricks, Route 1, Orient, was the judge at Thursday's show. She has been a judge for 10 years.

She is also a farmer's wife with 5 children. She is currently the State Board Judge's Chairman for Ohio Association of Garden Clubs. This board is responsible for training all flower show judges. And she is a member of Darby Valley Garden Club.

The following are the winners in Thursday's Flower Show:

Sunday School Class Holds Hawaiian Luau

The United Crusaders Sunday School Class of Emmanuel United Methodist Church met recently in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Metzler, Hawthorne Drive, for a Luau party.

As each guest arrived a lei was placed around their neck. The patio was decorated in keeping with the theme and Donald Metzler accompanied the group on a ukulele while they sang Hawaiian songs.

Orville LeLong read Scripture for devotions and Mrs. Donald Metzler, the newly elected president, conducted a brief business session.

Hawaiian punch was served throughout the evening and the other refreshments carried out the theme.

Games were played with prizes won by Harold Evans and Howard Pryor.

The August meeting will be held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orville DeLong, 465 Stella Ave.

OSU Hikes Tuition Fees Across Board

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State University President Novice G. Fawcett says the $30 increase in quarterly tuition fees approved by trustees Thursday is "absolutely essential" to provide quality educational opportunities.

Trustees hiked the academic fees at the Columbus campus to a total of $200 per quarter. The nonresident surcharge for out-of-state students was increased $150 to $350 per quarter.

Fees at regional OSU campuses in Mansfield, Marion, Lima and Newark were hiked $5 per quarter.

The board also approved increases in residence hall board and room rates an average of $10 to $12 a quarter.

Fawcett said the action was contingent upon passage by the legislature of the state's Education Appropriation Act and the pay bill for state classified personnel.

But it is essential, he said, "that student fees and tuition levels for this current year be established at this time so that the registration process may begin without delaying the starting date of autumn quarter."

ducted by Dr. Mike Chakeres, Past Department of Ohio Commander and presently serving as the alternate national committeeman from Ohio.

The incoming officers are Commander MacDonald Schumm; First Vice Commander Donald Jackson; Second Vice Commander Dallas Hinkle; Finance Officer Arthur Sherman; Chaplain Claude Robison; Sgt-at-arms Robert Carpenter; and Adjutant Walter Pickel, Jr. Serving of the Executive Committee of the Post is Harold Hill, Chairman, George Helwagen, Dudley Radcliff, Richard McAbee, and James Price.

The speaker for the evening will be Arthur H. Euler, a successful Wood County farmer who specializes in raising beef cattle. He is the Commander of The American Legion of Ohio for the term ending in July 1970 and, as such, heads an organization composed of some 122,000 veterans of war-time service in both World Wars, Korea and Viet Nam.

Euler is a World War II veteran with nearly five years service in the Army and is a 22-year member of The American Legion. A member of Lybarger-Grimm Post, Tontogany, he has served it in all offices and committee chairmanships, including two years as commander.

His work in the Legion was recognized at the District level where he served two years as vice-commander and in 1963 was elected district commander of the First District, which comprises 10 counties in the extreme northwestern corner of Ohio.

He was elected second vice-commander of the state Legion commander of the state Legion convention in Cincinnati, as first vice-commander in 1968 at Columbus, and was moved up to his present office at the July 1969 convention in Cleveland.

Euler is married and the father of five children. His wife, Rita, is active in the local affairs of The American Legion Auxiliary.

Also attending the meeting will be several area Legionnaires and Auxiliary members. Guests for the evening will be the Posts representative to this years Buckeye Boys State and their parents. They are Richard Walters, Ty Ankrom, and Danny Fausnaugh. Representatives of the Local Elks lodge, who are co-sponsors of one of the Boys Staters are also invited.

Speaker Named For Young GOP Meet Tuesday

JAMES LECKRONE

The Pickaway County Young Republican Club will meet at the Historical Society Museum at the corners of Scioto and Union Sts. 8 p.m. Tuesday.

President Eugene H. Dowler will introduce the program for the coming year. This is going to be a big year according to Dowler. "The club will be more for the person who would like to meet people and discuss politics and yet have a good time doing it," Dowler stated.

There will be programs for the general public. Also the club will be doing a series of programs of political educational themes.

The main speaker of the evening will be Jim Leckrone. He is a native Ohioan, born in Chillicothe. He grew up in Columbus and later in Zanesville. He earned a bachelor of science degree in radio and television journalism at Ohio University.

He first developed an interest in politics while working as a reporter covering the court

WASHINGTON (AP) — Edward M. Kennedy, his face reddened, the skin around his eyes puffed, walked back into the Senate chamber to reclaim his front row desk on the Democratic side of the aisle.

"Come in, Ted," said Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield. "You're right back where you belong."

With those words, Kennedy Thursday slipped quietly back into the routine of his position as Senate whip, his party's assistant leader.

He had not been seen on Capitol Hill since a July 18 auto accident in which a young woman riding in his car was killed.

Throughout the day, dozens of his colleagues—one after the other—reached down to shake his hand, drape an arm around his shoulder, whisper an encouraging word in his ear.

Before hand, on the Senate's white marble steps, Kennedy, inching his way through clutching newsmen and tourists, had answered the question everyone had tried to ask:

"No, he would not under any circumstances seek the presi-house and city offices in Lima. His interests continued to grow after he was named as statehouse correspondent for WTVN in Columbus. Leckrone was named assistant to the director of finance for the state of Ohio in December of 1968. He made the move from an observer of the statehouse scene to a participant because he says, "I could no longer stay uninvolved."

In addition to politics, he has an active interest in sports car competition, skiing and dramatics. He moved to his present address, Route 4, in June of 1967.

Dowler urges all the members to bring a guest. The meeting is open to the public. Leckrone's topic will be "Togetherness." This will be a very interesting meeting and plans for the convention will also be discussed. The club is planning on sending delegates to the Ohio League's Convention.

deny in 1972 and, yes, his decision was irrevocable. And yes, he was glad to be back.

Inside the chamber, past the line of Capitol policemen who ran interference for him at times, Kennedy slouched in his chair. For more than an hour, at one point, he folded and unfolded and refolded a slip of paper.

Later, after a series of votes marking the first time since the membership was increased to 100 that all senators were present for a roll call, he again talked briefly with newsmen.

Kennedy said he had been inclined not to seek the presidential nomination even before the accident which killed 28-year-old Mary Jo Kopechne and the controversy resulting from his failure to report the incident to police for more than eight hours.

Enough explanations had been made, he said, and he would issue no others.

Through most of the day, Kennedy was at Mansfield's side, directing party-line votes on tax issues that brought a significant victory to the Senate's Democratic leaders as the Nixon administration's bid to extend the surtax for a full year was turned back.

The surtax was extended for only six months and a Senate aide commented: "It was Kennedy's strategy that worked today. He wanted to link extension of the surtax to broad tax reform and now it looks as though that is exactly what will happen."

When the voting was over and the debate had returned to deployment of an antiballistic missile system, Kennedy visited his two Senate offices.

"No, this isn't a bad day at all," a Kennedy secretary replied to a question.

"As a matter of fact," said another, "it's about the happiest day we've had for a long while."

Power Company Shift Made In The Dark

TONOPAH, Nev. (AP) — Sierra Pacific Power Co. won state approval to buy for $3 million the Southern California Edison Co., which provides electric- ity for two Nevada counties.

Reese Taylor, chairman of the Public Service Commission, said the transfer was approved in the dark at the close of a hearing Wednesday night after electric power failed during a thunderstorm.

ABM Foes Won't Fight Study Pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two key Safeguard opponents say they will not challenge the Pentagon's award of a $249.6 million contract to continue development of the missile defense system as long as no deployment is involved.

Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., called the timing of the Thursday announcement "very interesting" since it came with a Senate showdown on the Safeguard issue less than a week away.

"If there is authority and there are funds available, it's correct as long as it's research," Cooper said.

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., said he thinks the Pentagon has the authority.

"If it's only research and development, then I would not challenge it," Gore said.

Cooper and Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., are sponsors of an amendment which would bar deployment of the Safeguard missiles or site acquisitions, but would approve $759.1 million for research and development of the antiballistic missile-ABM.

Some Safeguard opponents said the contract, while apparently legal, seemed an attempt to pressure against the amendment, scheduled for a vote Wednesday.

Mayor Wins Election With Eight Votes

RIVERSIDE, Wyoming (AP) — Riverside town councilman Richard Martin was re-elected to a four-year term in the little town's recent municipal election.

But he may regret it. Martin received 8 votes. The losing candidate had 7. She was Mrs. Richard Martin.

A host of plants, as well as animals, carry their own tiny lanterns. One species of umbrella-shaped fungus turns into a facsimile of a small night lamp.

Sunday Mark 1:29-39
Monday Mark 2:1-12
Tuesday Mark 2:18-28
Wednesday Mark 3:7-35
Thursday Mark 4:35-41
Friday Mark 5:35-43
Saturday Mark 6:7-13

The kids in the grandstand are yelling, "Strike him out!" and our young pitcher is going to do exactly that. This is his day for a shut-out game . . . his day to win.

He's feeling pretty good about it, and who's to blame him? But what if things had gone the other way? What if some other boy had been warming up in the bullpen, about to have taken his place? But he is a well-balanced youngster, and he would have taken that in stride, too.

He has learned about being a good sport, about regard for his fellow men, and about many other equally important things in Church. For, like thousands of other American youngsters, the Church already plays an important part in his life. That is one reason why his parents have faith in the fact that he will grow up to be a pretty fine man.

Jets Favored To Win All-Star Tilt

By JERRY LISK
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — Although the New York Jets boast doughty Joe Namath, the Super Bowl champs go against the collegians in the 36th College All-Star football game a surprisingly modest favorite at Soldier Field tonight.

Favoritism on the Jets, stunning conquerors over the National Football League's Baltimore Colts, 16-7, in the Super Bowl game, dropped from 17 points early in the week to a 13 point margin quoted in Las Vegas.

That's a much slimmer betting bulge than NFL champs enjoyed in recent years, probably reflecting a brisk flow of All-Star money among many fans still skeptical of the Jets' explosion to the top of the pro football heap.

Namath, who made good his pre-Super Bowl boats against the Colts, expressed the feeling of the nouveau-rich Jets, asserting, "We'll be out to beat them good."

Namath, who stirred coast-to-coast headlines with his now-ended feud with Commissioner Pete Rozelle over Broadway Joe's ownership of a New York bar, has aching legs and admits to being a bit rusty due to his late training start.

But if the pro form sheet is followed, Namath may be on display before an expected crowd of 70,000, representing the series biggest money gate, for only the first half.

Jet Coach Weeb Ewbank, who directed his old Colts to All-Star victories in 1959 and 1960, plans to replace Namath with another capable slinger, Babe Parilli, in the second half.

Coach Otto Graham's 49-man squad is as sharp as a three-week practice of his college stars of 1968 could get them in his return to the All-Star helm after three seasons as boss of the Washington Redskins.

The All-Star running game is missing such great ball carriers as O.J. Simpson of Southern California and Ron Johnson of Michigan, but Graham has the makings of a sharp aerial game.

Most of the tossing will be done by Notre Dame's Terry Hanratty and Cincinnati's Greg Cook to such stand-out receivers as Jim Seymour, Hanratty's Irish record-breaking battery-mate; Gene Washington of Stanford; Jerry LeVias of Southern Methodist and Ed Hinton of Oklahoma.

The game will be telecast nationally by the American Broadcasting Company, starting at 9:30 p.m. EDT.

Last year's third straight triumph by the Green Bay Packers, 34-17, gave the NFL a 24-9-2 edge in the All-Star series started in 1935. Last All-Star victory was a 20-17 decision over the Packers by Graham's 1963 collegians.

Hinton Smacks Winning Single For Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland Indians utility player Chuck Hinton, who didn't get into Thursday night's game against the Chicago White Sox until the eighth inning, singled home the winning run in the 10th as the Indians won, 3-2.

"Hinton has gotten the big hits for us lately and has really been doing a good job," Tribe Manager Alvin Dark said. "Hinton strained his wrist on May 11 and it was 2½ months before he started swinging again."

Hinton is usually an outfielder, but played third base Thursday after getting a pinch hit single for Lou Klinechek in the eighth. After Ken Karrelson got on first base in the 10th on a fielder's choice and moved to second on an intentional walk to Duke Sims, Hinton delivered his game-winning hit.

Rozelle Says Namath Top Drawing Card

CHICAGO (AP) — Commissioner Pete Rozelle cited his protagonist of just two weeks ago, Joe Namath, with being one of the major reasons tonight's College All-Star football game could draw the largest crowd in more than a decade.

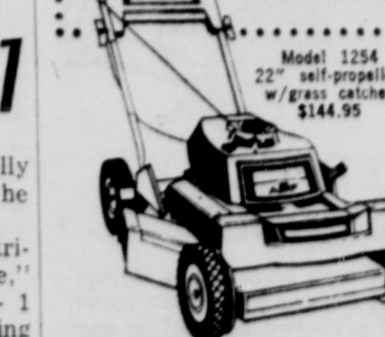

"It's recognition of what Namath and his teammates have done—their tremendous Super Bowl performance," said Rozelle. "That seemed to captivate the country and this is a manifestation of that—a rub-off of a colorful and very effective team."

Hill's Takes Hummel And Plum, 10-9

Hill Implement edged Hummel and Plum in the only Mosquito League action Thursday night, 10-9.

Hummel and Plum took a 8-4 lead after two innings but scored only once more in the tilt while allowing Hill's two in the fourth, three in the fifth, and one in the sixth. Hill's ten markers came on ten hits while Hummel and Plum tapped six for nine runs.

Kline went three for four at the plate for the losers, hitting the only extra base hit of the tilt with a double. Dave Marshall was three for four for the winners.

Bob Bevan started on the hill for Hummel and Plum. He gave up one hit and five bases on balls before he was relieved by Kline. Kline allowed seven hits and six bases on balls.

DAVE Karr was the winning hurler. He allowed 13 hits and walked seven.

Braves, Phillies Split Twinbill, 4-2, 9-0

By MIKE BRYSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Pat Jarvis made a couple of mistakes in the ninth inning after flitting with a brilliant pitching performance, but everything turned out okay.

His Atlanta teammates, made a lot of mistakes against Philadelphia a short time later, but because of Pittsburgh's Al Oliver, it didn't cause much harm to the Braves' pennant hopes.

Jarvis tamed the Phils on just one hit for 8-2-3 innings Thursday night before he was chased by a rally in Atlanta's 4-2 victory in the opener of a double-header.

Then, in the next game, the Phils battered Jim Britton, Claude Raymond and Gary Niebauer for eight runs in the sixth inning—Philadelphia's biggest one inning explosion in more than three years—en route to a 9-0 victory and a split.

But, despite the nightcap loss, the Braves were actually able to widen their lead in the National League West's torrid race to two games—thanks to Oliver.

Oliver delivered the winning run in the 15th inning with a single as the Pirates dropped Los Angeles out of second place with a 2-1 conquest.

That triumph—combined with Cincinnati's 6-1 coast past Montreal and San Francisco's 12-2 loss to the Chicago Cubs—left the runnerup spot in the West race in a jumbled mess.

Cincinnati is second with a .552 percentage, but Los Angeles is only .003 percentage points back and fourth-place San Francisco trails the Dodgers by only .001. All three teams are two games back of the Braves.

The New York Mets lost to Houston 2-0 in the only other National League game scheduled, and fell six games back of the Cubs in the East Division race.

Jarvis was coasting along with his one-hit shutout with two outs and two strikes on Larry Hise when the Phils' rookie lashed his 14th homer of the season.

Richie Allen's double and a single by John Callison produced another run before Raymond came in to get the last out.

"I outgassed myself," said Jarvis, 9-7, about Hise's homer. "Tilly (catcher Bob Tillman) called for a fastball to Hise and I shook him off."

"I threw one curve ball all night and he (Hise) parked it. I got it a little too good."

Tillman backed Jarvis with three RBIs and Hank Aaron hit a solo homer, his 28th of the season and 528th of his career.

The Phils combined six hits and three Atlanta errors for their eight-run inning in the nightcap after Brave starter Britton had yielded only one hit during the first 5 1-3 innings.

Callison, Deron Johnson, Ron Stone, Don Money and Terry Harmon all had run-scoring hits in the big frame.

Oliver came up with his winning hit for the Pirates after Matty Alou opened the 15th with a single and advanced on Ron Davis' bunt.

"We don't get paid for extra innings," cracked Oliver about the clincher.

3rd National Dumps Savings

Third National Bank evened for the winners while Steve Allen and John Walker got one.

Alan Hawks was four for six at the plate for the Third National while Dave Winner hit three for five.

ROONEY went three for four at the plate for the losing bankers team tapping a double and two singles. Don Graham and Jerry Boltenhouse also got doubles.

After tying the tilt at four each, Third National took off with a barrage of hits scoring seven in the second, ten in the third inning, six in the fourth stanza and four in the seventh.

Stu Moore tapped two doubles

Reds Bubble With Optimism After Cleaning Montreal, 6-1

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
CINCINNATI (AP) — Several of the Cincinnati Reds, including Manager Dave Bristol, bubbled with optimism Thursday night after they downed Montreal 6-1.

They had some reason to be. The victory was their fourth straight, they moved into second place, Gerry Arrigo went all the way on the mound for the Reds' second complete game in three days and Woody Woodward, who recently broke into the lineup, continued his hitting streak.

"We're going to win, we're going to win the whole thing," said John Bench, who contributed a big share in the contest by stroking a three-run homer in the four-run seventh inning.

"We're going to win the pennant," Bristol asserted. "I would be a helluva guy if I didn't feel this club could win."

Woodward, who now has hit .500 since starting in every game from the All-Star break, cracked a two-run double in the fourth inning to put Cincinnati ahead 2-1.

Arrigo scattered six hits and the only inning in which he experienced trouble was the second when Jose Laboy hit a solo homer.

"Woody has been just great,"

said Bristol. "He has really been hitting the ball since he got back into the lineup."

"I feel now like I'm contributing to the Reds' cause," said Arrigo, who now is 2-1 with both victories coming within the past week. He has been bothered by arm trouble the whole season.

The Expos did not have much to be happy about Thursday. The loss was their 70th of the year and their third straight to Cincinnati. On the year, Montreal is 1-8 against the Reds.

Laboy and Jose Herrera, who had two hits in four trips, supplied what offensive spark the club had.

Tommy Bolt Takes Lead At Westchester

HARRISON, N.Y. (AP) — "I just wanted to show those young cats I was playing with I can play too," said crusty Tommy Bolt.

Bolt showed not only George Archer and Johnny Pott, his playing partners, but everyone else in the elite Westchester Classic field Thursday that just because he has mellowed some at 51, his game hasn't.

The tempestuous Tommy struck the tight par 72 Westchester Country Club Course like lightning with five consecutive birdies for a 66 and a one shot lead after the first round of the 250,000 tournament, the richest in golf.

Australian Bruce Devlin and unheralded Bert Greene were one shot back at 67.

Another stroke back, at 68, were Bruce Crampton, another Australian; South African Harold Henning, Paul Harney, Terry Dill, Fred Marti and Bob Lunn.

Long-hitting Tom Weiskopf was in a group at 69 which included Frank Beard, Tony Jacklin, Jim Colbert, R. H. Sikes, Bobby Nichols and Marty Fleckman.

hitter as he led his Savings Bank teammates to a 9-1 win over Circleville Oil, keeping the Bankers in contention for the league title with a 9-3 mark.

Bob Baranick fired a two-hit shutout for Ward's Market as they dropped Rotary 28-0, bringing their record to 8-4.

The victory was Bumgarner's fourth one-hitter in the last six starts. He had a no-hitter going into the last inning. He walked the first batter, and with two outs, Jerry Strawser cracked a single through the box to score the run.

BUMGARNER walked two batters and whiffed 14.

Jamie Hickey and Mike Brown belted doubles for the winners and Bumgarner added two singles.

Bryon Edgington and Moore hurried for Circleville Oil. Edgington walked four batters and fanned one while allowing two hits. Moore walked two and fanned seven allowing three hits.

Baranick walked four and fanned seven enroute to the shutout win over Rotary. He allowed singles to Jeff Funk and Richard McCain.

Ward's 22 hit attack was paced by Tom Ritchie with two homeruns and two doubles. Randy Dean powered a homerun and a double, Gary Combs had a homerun, Rock Dean had a triple and a double, and Bill Mogan tagged a triple and a double.

Funk was tagged for the loss. He walked eight batters and fanned six.

There were 73,118 harness races contested in the United States and Canada during 1968.

"We don't get paid for extra innings," cracked Oliver about the clincher.

3rd National Dumps Savings

Third National Bank evened their record to 5-5 Thursday night by beating the Savings Bank in the Pony League, 31-7.

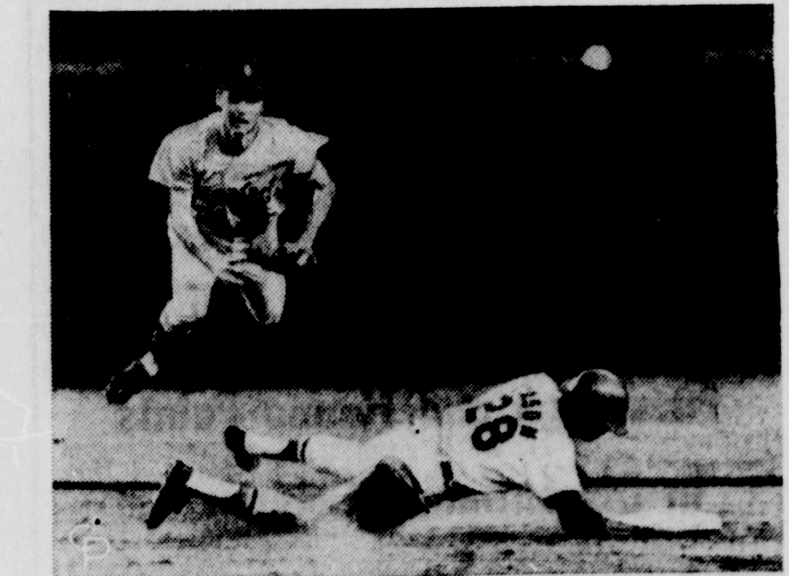

Alan Hawks hurled the full seven innings for the winners fanning eight and allowing 12 hits while walking three.

Jim Brown started on the hill for the losers. He fanned two and gave up eight hits in the two innings he pitched. He was relieved by Don Tomlinson. Tomlinson whiffed two and gave up 16 hits before Tony Rooney relieved him with three innings left to play. Rooney allowed three hits and struck out four.

Stu Moore tapped two doubles for the winners while Steve Allen and John Walker got one. Alan Hawks was four for six at the plate for the Third Bank team while Dave Winner hit three for five.

ROONEY went three for four at the plate for the losing bankers team tapping a double and two singles. Don Graham and Jerry Bollenhouse also got doubles.

After tying the tilt at four each, Third National took off with a barrage of hits scoring seven in the second, ten in the third inning, six in the fourth stanza and four in the seventh.

SPACE CRAFT-INESS—The space age spreads to the sports field here as Jose Arcia, second baseman of the San Diego Padres, gets off the ground on a double-play attempt involving Vada Pinson of the St. Louis Cards in St. Louis.

Reds Bubble With Optimism After Cleaning Montreal, 6-1

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
CINCINNATI (AP) — Several of the Cincinnati Reds, including Manager Dave Bristol, bubbled with optimism Thursday night after they downed Montreal 6-1.

They had some reason to be. The victory was their fourth straight, they moved into second place, Gerry Arrigo went all the way on the mound for the Reds' second complete game in three days and Woody Woodward, who recently broke into the lineup, continued his hitting streak.

"We're going to win, we're going to win the whole thing," said John Bench, who contributed a big share in the contest by stroking a three-run homer in the four-run seventh inning.

"We're going to win the pennant," Bristol asserted. "I would be a helluva guy if I didn't feel this club could win."

Woodward, who now has hit .500 since starting in every game from the All-Star break, cracked a two-run double in the fourth inning to put Cincinnati ahead 2-1.

Arrigo scattered six hits and the only inning in which he experienced trouble was the second when Jose Laboy hit a solo homer.

"Woody has been just great,"

said Bristol. "He has really been hitting the ball since he got back into the lineup."

"I feel now like I'm contributing to the Reds' cause," said Arrigo, who now is 2-1 with both victories coming within the past week. He has been bothered by arm trouble the whole season.

The Expos did not have much to be happy about Thursday. The loss was their 70th of the year and their third straight to Cincinnati. On the year, Montreal is 1-8 against the Reds. Laboy and Jose Herrera, who had two hits in four trips, supplied what offensive spark the club had.

Savings Bank, Wards Win LL Contest

Two pitchers' games marked Little League minor play Thursday night at Ted Lewis Park.

Biff Bumgarner threw a one-hitter as he led his Savings Bank teammates to a 9-1 win over Circleville Oil, keeping the Bankers in contention for the league title with a 9-3 mark.

Bob Baranick fired a two-hit shutout for Ward's Market as they dropped Rotary 28-0, bringing their record to 8-4.

The victory was Bumgarner's fourth one-hitter in the last six starts. He had a no-hitter going into the last inning. He walked the first batters, and with two outs, Jerry Strawser cracked a single through the box to score the run.

BUMGARNER walked two batters and whiffed 14.

Jamie Hickey and Mike Brown belted doubles for the winners and Bumgarner added two singles.

Bryon Edgington and Moore hurried for Circleville Oil. Edgington walked four batters and fanned one while allowing two hits. Moore walked two and fanned seven allowing three hits.

Baranick walked four and fanned seven enroute to the shutout win over Rotary. He allowed singles to Jeff Funk and Richard McCain.

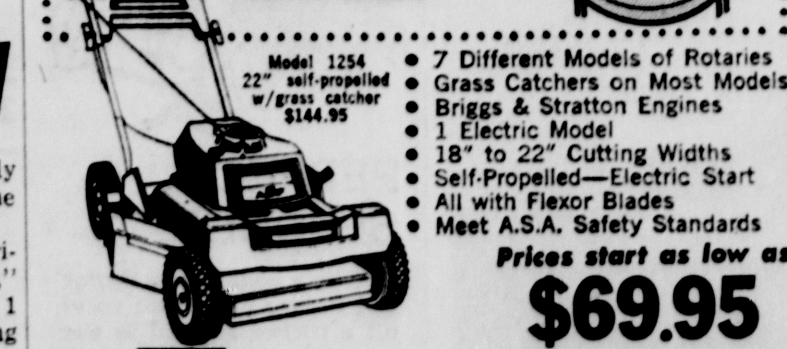

Ward's 22 hit attack was paced by Tom Ritchie with two homers and two doubles. Randy Dean powered a homerun and a double, Gary Combs had a homerun, Rock Dean had a triple and a double, and Bill Mogan tagged a triple and a double.

Funk was tagged for the loss. He walked eight batters and fanned six.

There were 73,118 harness races contested in the United States and Canada during 1968.

Arts And Letters Slates 1st Start Since Monmouth Run

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer Arts and Letters, who thwarted the bid of Majestic Prince to win racing's Triple Crown, is slated to make his first start since his memorable triumph on June 7 in the $100,000 Monmouth Invitational Handicap at the New Jersey track Saturday.

Paul Mellon's hardy 3-year-old Belmont Stakes winner worked out one-half mile in 48 4-5 seconds between races at Monmouth Park Thursday in preparation for the 1 1/8 mile race in which he has been assigned top weight of 128 pounds, including jockey Braulio Baeza.

"Normally I would expect Arts and Letters to go in 46 or 47," said trainer Elliott Burch after the workout. "However, the track is apparently dead, so I guess I must be satisfied with what he did."

The return of Arts and Letters, currently regarded as the leading 3-year-old in training, highlights the national weekend program in horse racing.

Two other 100 granders, the $100,000-added Delaware Handicap for fillies and mares and the $100,000-added Benjamin F. Lindheimer Handicap at Arlington Park, are listed.

Elsewhere there is the $50,000-added Whitney Stakes at Saratoga, the $20,000 Gen. John W. A. Green Memorial Handicap at Rockingham Park and the $20,000 San Diego Handicap at Del Mar. The Kindergarten Stakes is scheduled for Liberty Bell.

Al Hattab, the second high weight at 126 pounds, looms as the main contender for Arts and Letters. Others in the field are Gleaming Light at 116, Hydrologist 115, Prime Pool 112 and Dot Ed's Bluesky 111.

At least 20 legislators were injured as the police smashed chairs, tables and microphones. Speaker B.K. Banerjee and two assemblymen jumped out of a window to escape.

The police brought along the body of a policeman who they said was killed in a clash Tuesday with supporters of the state government. They charged that Basu has failed to support them in confrontations with strikers and backers of the Communist regime.

Calcutta, a city with half as many people as New York jammed into an area one-tenth that city's, has been described by the World Health Organization as one of the most unhealthy places on earth.

A giant slum in which poverty, unemployment, disease and death are rife, Calcutta is a hotbed of dissatisfaction that resulted in the victorious sweep of the Communist-dominated United Front in the West Bengal state elections last February.

Two motorcycles were stolen from the Capitol City Motorcycle Club near Harrisburg between 2:30 a.m. Wednesday and 4:30 p.m. Thursday.

The theft was reported to the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department. Deputy Francis McGinnis investigated the report.

The incident occurred on the Dowler Farm.

Ohio Senate . .

to public officials.

The House passed 88-0 a Senate bill to strengthen Ohio law on credit cards. It provides fines up to $1,000 and up to seven years in jail for fraudulent use of the cards for $600 or more of services.

The House concurred 73 - 17 in Senate amendments to a bill extending fair housing to one and two-family dwellings. The bill now goes to the governor for signing.

In the Senate, a bill requiring the licensing of private investigators passed 24-0. Sen. John W. E. Bowen, R-15 Columbus, called it badly needed.

He said there have been complaints of unscrupulous and incompetent private investigators who often interfere with law enforcement officers.

The Senate passed 26 - 0 a House approved bill to permit persons convicted for minor offenses to serve their jail terms on weekends or when off from work.

It gives judges more latitude in dealing with offenses like drunken driving, sponsors said. Families wouldn't suffer financially as a result, they added.

TV Board Holds Meet

The Teays Valley board of Education met in continued session July 25 with four members present. The main topic of discussion at the meet was the heating project at the Scioto School.

Alternate bids were considered on the project with the H. C. Wear Company being awarded the contract for $18,705.00.

The contract is to comply with the state code in writing and the system must be guaranteed to produce 75 degree temperatures in ten degree outside temperatures. The project is to be completed by September 22, 1969.

In other action at the meeting, David Kelling, Linda Warner, and Candy Howard were hired as teachers for the 1969-70 school year.

The board also received and approved a resignation from Nina Jean Lockhart.

FUN WITH FOODS 2 — Winners of the advanced fun with foods competition are from the left, Jane Schein, fifth; Sue Milburn, fourth; Sandy Strawser, third; Amy Curtiss, second, and Terry Chelkowsky, first.

Twelve Report For Duty With Armed Forces

Two volunteers and 10 enlistees from Pickaway County reported for duty with the Armed Forces in July.

The volunteers who reported for induction at Ft. Hayes Induction Center, Columbus, are Fred A. Wagner Jr., 447 Watt

St. and Ronald L. Scarberry, Route 1, Lockbourne.

Coffee and doughnuts, donated by Lindsey's Bakery, were served to the volunteers by Red Cross Volunteers prior to their departure from Circleville. A gift packet was also presented from Red Cross and Sertoma Club.

Enlisting services to the Army were Glenn R. Easterday, Paul D. Tatman and Glenn D. Reeser all of Circleville. Enlistments in the Navy were made by Richard L. Wiseman, Orient; Jack J. Jenkins, Tarlton; Kellie L. Howard, Stoutsville and Larry E. Collins, Circleville.

Donald G. Kneee and Thomas D. Joyce joined the Marine Corps and William Bennett became a member of the Air Force. All men are from Circleville.
